MERCURY'S TRANSIT.

A Striking Astronomical Event that Takes Place Today.

Associated Press Leased-wire Service.

NEW YORK, Nov. 9.—The transit of Mercury, which will occur tomorrow morning, is causing much interest not only among college professors and government officials, but among the amateur astronomers as well. Prof. J. K. Rees of Columbia College will take observations of the transit in the different stages. He will be assisted by Prof. T. P. Monell and H. S. Davis. The main points of contact will be the first external contact, the first internal contact, the last internal contact and the last external contact. By external contact is meant the exact time when Mercury will first indent the sun's disk, and by internal contact when Mercury will be first entirely within the disk of the sun.

The fact that the United States will be the most advantageous place in the world to see the transit has induced the Rev. Samuel Charles Worth, the famous English astronomer, to come to this country. The transit is scheduled to begin at 10 h. 55 m. 43 s. a.m., and is due to end at 4 h. 12 m. 7 s. in the afternoon. One of the interesting features is that observers in the United States have an excellent opportunity to settle conclusively whether Mercury does or does not possess a satellite. If there is one, it will be apparent on the sun's disk, above or below or behind or in front of the planet.

DISTINGUISHED PEEPERS.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 9.—The transit of Mercury will be observed by some distinguished persons at the Naval Observatory here tomorrow at 10:50 a.m. and 4:52 p.m. Secretary Herbert has invited President Cleveland and all the members of the Cabinet, with the ladies and their families, to visit the observatory to view the phenomena through the great telescope.

A BUILDING FALLS.

Two Men Killed and Several Others Injured.

Associated Press Leased-wire Service.

MONTREAL, Nov. 9.—At 3:30 o'clock the top floor of the magnificent offices of the City Passenger Railroad on the corner of Palee Arms Hill and Craig street caved in, killing two men instantly, injuring one fatally, and maiming a dozen others. The accident was caused by frost which made the heavy iron girders leave their sockets and which, crashing down, carried with them everything below. There were at the time about fifty workmen in the building, and many were miraculously saved from death. The dead are:

JOSEPH MARQUIS.

ROBERT PAUSO; both French-Canadians.

Pierre Monett, whose injuries will prove fatal, had his skull crushed and bones fractured in many places. While the men were working on the different floors of the building there suddenly came a deafening crash, when down came iron beams, planking, brick, mortar and lath in a heap. An alarm was sounded and the fire and patrol departments responded immediately with ambulances.

Besides the dead, and Monett, who is dying, the injuries of the others were so that they could be attended at their homes.

Sending Money to New York.

NEW YORK, Nov. 9.—It is estimated that during the week the banks have lost $1,000,000 by sub-treasury operations, and gained the same amount by the interior movement. Banks in Philadelphia and the Eastern States are sending money to this center just as steadily as though the rate of interest on bank deposits had not been reduced.

The Municipal Administration at the Metropolis Will be Like Joseph's Coat—The News from the Eastern States.

Associated Press Leased-wire Service.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 9.—At the State headquarters of each party, a gubernatorial victory is claimed. For the first time since the election, the rooms of the Republican State Central Committee are filled tonight with an enthusiastic crowd. Chairman P. B. Cornwall has returns from every county, from which he claims a minimum plurality for Estee of from 200 to 500, and thinks this vote will be increased. Estee himself expresses confidence in his election, and expects a plurality of from 900 to 1200. Cornwall claims that Estee has been defrauded of thousands of votes in San Francisco by Democratic judges and inspectors, who, he believes, counted for Budd votes cast for Estee. If the final returns do not show a plurality for Estee, the Republicans will demand a recount before the next Legislature, where gubernatorial contested election cases must be heard. This, it is claimed, will show such returns for Estee in San Francisco as will overcome the Democratic plurality.

Secretary John Markley, of the Democratic State Central Committee claims a plurality for Budd tonight of 2018, based upon private returns from all counties.

BUDD PULLS UP AGAIN.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 9.—At midnight the Associated Press had received complete returns from 1997 precincts, out of a total of 2274 precincts in California. Budd's vote is 103,604, Estee 102,826, Webster 46,226, Budd's plurality 778.

In addition to these figures, the Examiner claims to have returns from all except one precinct in San Francisco, which increases Budd's plurality in San Francisco from 11,226 to 11,703, which would increase Budd's total plurality in the State to 1355.

GOVERNOR.

In 1890 the total vote for Governor was as follows: Markham (Rep.) 125,129, Pond (Dem.) 117,184, Bidwell (Pro.) 10,073, scattering 71; Markham's plurality 8045.

For President in 1892, Cleveland (Dem.) received 118,054, Harrison (Rep.) 117,968, Weaver (Pop.) 25,276; Cleveland's plurality 86.

TALMAGE RESIGNS.

He Will not Ask His Pastorate to Build Another Church.

Associated Press Leased-wire Service.

NEW YORK, Nov. 9.—Dr. T. de Witt Talmage, pastor of the Brooklyn Tabernacle, which was recently for the third time destroyed by fire, has written a letter to the elders of the church, tendering his resignation. The letter reads as follows:

BROOKLYN (N. Y.,) Nov. 8, 1894.

To the Session of Brooklyn Tabernacle—Dear Brethren: I hereby ask you to join with me in a request to the Brooklyn Presbytery that they dissolve the pastoral relations now existing. The congregation of the Brooklyn Tabernacle having built during my pastorate, three large church which have been destroyed, it is not right that I should call on them to build a fourth church during my ministry. I advise that you do one of two things, either call a new pastor, under whose leadership a church may be built, or remain in organization until you can give certificates of membership to our people, so that they may join sister churches. As for myself, I will, as Providence may direct, either take another pastorate or go into general evangelistic work, preaching the gospel to all people without money and without price. Thanking you for your ever-increasing kindness to me and mine, and hoping to be reassociated with you in the heavenly world, together with the multitudes with whom we have worshiped during the past twenty-five years, I am yours, in the gospel.

(Signed) T. DE WITT TALMAGE.

A HORRIBLE TALE.

A North Dakota Farmer Confesses to Two Murders.

Associated Press Leased-wire Service.

FARGO (N. D.,) Nov. 9.—N. J. Villiars was brought to the Cass County Jail by Sheriff Eddy of Stuttsman county. Eddy left Jamestown with his prisoner just in advance of a mob, which was on its way to take the prisoner from jail and lynch him. On the way here Villiars confessed the horrible crime with which he was charged. Tuesday evening Villiars went to the farm of Mrs. Fromer, in Montpelier township. Mrs. Fromer saw him at the barn and went out to see what he wanted. When she approached Villiars knocked her down with a club and beat her into insensibility, dragged her into the barn, assaulted her and threw her in the well in the barn. He then set the barn on fire and left. The barn burned to the ground, but Mrs. Fromer escaped death in the well.

Toward morning she managed to climb out of the well and got to the house. Taking her children with her, she crawled on her hands and knees to a neighbors, two miles away and died, after telling her story. Villiars was captured at Valley City and taken to Jamestown by Sheriff Stenshoel. He is one of the oldest farmers in Stuttsman county and was highly respected. A large mob gathered at Montpelier and started for Jamestown to lynch him, but Sheriff Eddy heard of their coming in time to escape.

Villiars tonight confessed another crime. A month ago Fromer, the husband of the woman he murdered, mysteriously disappeared. Villiars says he killed Fromer and that his body will be found buried in a pile of manure back of the barn.

A Receiver Asked for the International Nickel Mining Company.

Associated Press Leased-wire Service.

CHICAGO, Nov. 9.—A bill for a receiver for the International Nickel Mining Company was filed in the Circuit Court today by the Colorado Iron Works, on behalf of all creditors. The complainant is a judgment creditor holding claims of $4629 and $3211. The capital stock of the defendant is $5,000,000, but it is claimed that the property owned by it never exceeded in value $100,000. The scheme was floated by Gillette & Taylor of this city, who purchased a claim covering 260 acres in Douglass county, Or., from Selah Reeve, for $51,000.

A Tax Decision Against the Indianapolis Union Railway.

Associated Press Leased-wire Service.

INDIANAPOLIS, Nov. 9.—Appelate Judge Rhinehart today in the suit of the Indianapolis Union Railway Company against the treasurer of Marion county for the State, decided in favor of the State. The suit was to enjoin the collection of $192,000 taxes fixed by the State Tax Board. The company maintained that the board had no jurisdiction, and that, if it did have, it acted fraudulently in making the assessment. The company will appeal to the Supreme Court.

Missionaries Flocking into New-Chwang—Rumors Revived as to the Assault on Port Arthur—In Korea.

Associated Press Leased-wire Service.

SHANGHAI, Nov. 9.—(By Asiatic Cable.) The Chinese army of the north has retreated to the mountains where the soldiers are reported to be starving and suffering severely from cold and exposure. The Japanese army is reported to be encamped at Leng-Wang-Ohen. The Japanese are pursuing the 15,000 Chinese, mostly new recruits.

Port Arthur is not expected to make a determined stand against the Japanese. Admiral Sir E. R. Freemantle, in command of the British fleet, considers Port Arthur will probably be the scene of the last engagement of any importance between the Chinese and Japanese.

MISSIONARIES COMING IN.

LONDON, Nov. 9.—A dispatch from Shanghai says that missionaries from the Presbyterian church from Ireland, who have been working in Manchuria, have left the interior and arrived at New-Chwang.

Another dispatch from Shanghai says that the Japanese have undoubtedly captured Ta-Lien-Wan, a short distance north of Port Arthur. The Chinese fleet is reported to have arrived at Wei-Hai-Wei.

A DEMORALIZED PEOPLE.

LONDON, Nov. 9. — A dispatch from Shanghai says that the panic in Niuchwang and throughout Manchuria continues. Numerous country people are arriving at Niuchwang and two-thirds of the stores have been closed. Chang Chi Tung arrived in Nankin last evening with the remains of the Viceroy of Lian Chang. A war levy of $3 a head has been imposed in Han-Kow. The people will probably resist it.

The Pall Mall Gazette prints a Yokohama dispatch saying that the Japanese are laying torpedoes at Port Arthur, and are in other ways completing the trap which they had been preparing for the Chinese. Uschida, Japanese Charge d'Affaires in London, said Japan could not accept as an answer to her proposals of reform in Korea the maintenance of a Chinese army in the peninsula. The presence of Chinese troops in Korea meant merely a series of horrors such as are now perpetrating in Manchuria.

Japan never menaced China's integrity. She did not intend to break up the empire, and certainly does not wish others to do so. The height of Japan's ambition is to see China consolidated, freed from corruption, prosperous and open to commerce and civilization.

THE BRITISH POLICY.

LONDON, Nov. 9.—In accordance with custom, the new Lord Mayor of London, Sir Joseph Renalas, gave a banquet at the Guild Hall. The principal speaker was Lord Rosebery. He said:

"We are determined to maintain strict neutrality, but, on the other hand, we cannot forget we have shown a striking and tangible proof of friendship to Japan by our recent treaty, while we have shown friendship to China in attempting to secure peace. We acted thoroughly in accord with Russia. We would still be glad to join in any pacific measure to secure a peace honorable to Japan, and not disastrous to China. The newspapers have been advising the government to secure the opportunity now offered to enter into a cordiale entente with Russia. That advice the government has already anticipated. (Cheers.) Ever since the government's relations with Russia have been more cordial than I ever remember. The removal of this cause of Anglo-Russian distrust will be a great step toward universal peace. There are at present three elements endangering the world's peace, enormous armaments, the press and armed explorations."

He did not believe the newspapers, in their competition, sufficiently weighed the effect of their intelligence. It had been twice announced in the newspapers that New Zealand desired or intended to administer the government of Samoa. The British government did not think it necessary to contradict such absurd rumors, though they could not fail to prejudicially affect the powers with which Great Britain was co-operating in Samoa. "Our foreign policy," he concluded, "is distinctly conservative. We covet nothing abroad, and only want to maintain the statu quo."

ORDERED TO ATTACK.

LONDON, Nov. 9.—A dispatch from Shanghai states that the Chinese men-of-war remaining outside Port Arthur have been ordered to attack the Japanese fleet that is blockading that port and preventing the ingress of a number of Chinese warships now lying there.

THE ARRESTED AMERICANS.

LONDON, Nov. 10.—A dispatch to the Times from Yokohama says the two Americans who were arrested at Kobe, on a French steamer, are thought to be experts, who have contracted with China to employ their own inventions to destroy the Japanese fleet. China promised them $1,000,000 for each warship they destroyed, and a proportionate sum for the merchantmen they succeeded in blowing up.

A REMARKABLE ORDER.

LONDON, Nov. 9.—A Berlin dispatch says that the German admiralty has wired the admiral commanding the German squadron on the Chinese station, to obey the orders of the British admiral in certain possible eventualities.

A Daily News dispatch from Paris says that France seems disposed to entertain the idea of a European conference on the Chinese-Japanese war.

JAPAN WILL BE BENEVOLENT.

LONDON, Nov. 9.—It is said that the powers have urged China to negotiate for peace directly with Japan and they have secured Japan's promise to meet the overtures in a benevolent spirit. Yokohama rumors are current to the effect that the Japanese forces have suffered defeat at Port Arthur.

THOSE SLOW RETURNS.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 9.—The last canvass of the vote in California was made late last night and includes 1658 precincts out of a total of 2274 precincts. It gives Budd a plurality of 2133 and shows that as far as the vote has been counted Estee has received a plurality of 9000 in the interior, against 11,000 for Budd in San Francisco. No returns whatever have been received here up to 2 o'clock this afternoon, since the last tabulation was made.

There are 616 precincts in the State from which no returns have been received and it is probable that they will decrease Budd's plurality, but it is not probable that they will overcome it. Owing to difficulties attending the collection of missing returns, nothing will be received here upon which a later and more complete computation can be made until a late hour. There is no change in former announcements in regard to the remainder of the ticket.

With the exception of the Fourth District, in which Maguire is re-elected, the Republicans have captured the Congressmen and they will also have a large majority in the Legislature. Henshaw (Rep.) and Temple (Dem.) are elected Supreme Court Justices by safe majorities, as is also Van Fleet (Rep.) for the short term. Stanton (Dem.) is elected Railroad Commissioner in the Second District and Clark (Rep.) in the Third District. The last tabulation on the First District showed Beckman (Rep.) was leading by about 150 votes, but returns have been received from but 381 precincts in a total of 871 precincts in this district and the result can be considered in doubt.

BEGINNING TO GAIN.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 9.—Complete returns from forty-three additional precincts in California were received here this afternoon, making the total number of precincts heard from 1701 in a total of 2274. These 1701 precincts give Estee 97,190, Budd 88,961; Budd's plurality 1771. This represents a gain of 362 for Estee since the last tabulation last night.

THE SIXTH AND SEVENTH.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 9.—Complete returns from 320 precincts in a total of 479 precincts in the Seventh Congress District give Bowers (Rep.) 14,039, Alford (Dem.) 10,131, Gilbert (Pop.) 7991.

Complete returns from 234 precincts in the Sixth Congress District give McLachlan (Rep.) 17,335, Patton (Dem.) 10,631, Bowman (Pop.) 8446.

SECOND DISTRICT.

SAN FRISCO, Nov. 9.—Complete returns from 364 precincts in a total of 457 precincts in the Second Congress District give: Johnson, (Rep.,) 16,074; Caminetti, (Dem.,) 12,632; Cornell, (Pop.,) 7353.

SAN DIEGO COUNTY.

SAN DIEGO, Nov. 9.—Seventy-nine precincts out of 85 in San Diego county give Estee 2722, Budd 1784, Webster 1792, French 397. The total poll of other precincts was about 300. Estee's plurality will be about 975.

SAN FRANCISCO.

Complete Municipal Returns Show a Mixed Administration.

Associated Press Leased-wire Service.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 9.—Complete returns for San Francisco municipal officers show the following to be elected: Mayor, Adolph Sutro (Pop.;) Auditor, William Broderick (Dem. and Non.-Part.;) Assessor, John D. Siebe (Non-Part;) Sheriff, Richard I. Whelan (Dem.;) Tax Collector, James N. Block (Dem.-Non-Part.;) Treasurer, James H. Widber (Rep.-Non-Part.;) Recorder, Glynn (Dem.;) County Clerk, C. F. Curry (Rep.;) District Attorney, William S. Barnes (Rep.;) Attorney and Counselor, H. T. Cresswell (Dem.-Non-Part.;) Coroner, W. J. Hawkins (Rep.;) Public Administrator, A. C. Freese (Dem.-Non-Part.;) Surveyor, A. C. Tilton (Rep.;) Superintendent of Streets, Thomas Ashworth (Dem.;) Superintendent of Public Schools, A. J. Moulder (Dem.;) Judges Superior Court, J. V. Coffey (Dem.-Non-Part.;) W. R. Datingerfield (Dem.-Non-Part.,) E. A. Belcher (Rep.-Non-Part.,) and Bahrs.

The police judges elected are Conlan, Low, Joachimsen and Campbell, all incumbents.

The Board of Supervisors will be Republican. Its composition will be five Republicans, two Republican-Non-Partisans, one straight Non-Partisan and four Democrats. For the unexpired term of Supervisors of the Third Ward, Nevins (Dem.) has been elected over Benjamin (Rep.,) who, however, defeated him for the long term.

The new Board of Education will contain six Republicans, three Democrats and three Non-Partisans.

IN THE EAST.

IMPORTANT BEARING OF THE NEW STATES.

How the Admission of Utah, New Mexico and Arizona Would Affect Congress—The Gist of Yesterday's Returns.

Associated Press Leased-wire Service.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 9.—A point that has been overlooked in computing the political complexion of the next Senate is the admission of Utah with two Senators. The act of the last session of Congress admitting Utah, provides that in March, 1895, the constitutional convention shall be held. On the first Tuesday after the first Monday in November of that year the constitution is to be submitted to the people and, if ratified and found by the President to be in accordance with the act, he will issue a proclamation admitting it as a State. The act also provides that Representatives to the Fifty-fourth Congress shall be elected at the same time the vote is taken upon the constitution; also that State officers and a legislature shall be chosen and if the constitution is ratified the legislature shall immediately meet and elect two United States Senators. As there is about a month from the time the election is held until the Fifty-fourth Congress meets, there will be ample time to have all the formalities complied with and Utah proclaimed a State in time for its Senators and Representatives to participate in the organization of the next Congress. This would make in all ninety Senators and as the next Senate now stands, the politics of the Utah Senators would cut an important figure.

Another probability which arises is that of Statehood for New Mexico and Arizona, which may be accomplished in time so that four more Senators would participate in the organization of the next Senate. Bills have already passed the House for the admission of both these Territories. The Senate Committee on Territories has reported them favorably to the Senate and they are now on the calendar. Senators of both parties have been urging their passage.

It is therefore quite likely that the battle for the control of the Senate will yet be fought out in Utah, New Mexico and Arizona next year. The admission of these new States would make a total of 94 Senators and any party to control would need 48 for a majority. With the Vice-President the Democrats could control the Senate with 47 Senators.

FOUR STATES HEARD FROM.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 9.—Chairman Babcock of the Republican Congress Committee received a telegram today from Chairman Dixie of Minnesota, saying the Republicans send a solid delegation to Congress. This announcement increases Chairman Babcock's figures on the Republicans in the next House to 256.

Chairman Charles Traine of Utah wires that Cannon (Rep.) is elected to Congress, and, unless the Republicans are counted out, they will control the Constitutional Convention.

Chairman P. B. Cornwell of California says the Republicans elected six Congressmen, and that Maguire is the only Democratic Congressman elected. The Republicans will control both branches of the Legislature, but that Estee is defeated by about 1500.

R. H. Carothers, chairman of the Kentucky State Republican Committee, telegraphs that six Republicans have been elected to Congress from that State, without counting Denny in the Ashland District.

FROM MISSOURI AND KENTUCKY.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 9.—Chairman Babcock of the Republican Congress Committee was today advised that the following named Republican Congressmen had been elected in Missouri and Kentucky:

Missouri—First District,; S. H. Clark; Fourth, George C. Crowther; Seventh, J. P. Tracey; Eighth, J. I. Hubbard; Ninth, William M. Trelor; Tenth, Richard Barthold; Eleventh, Charles F. Joy; Thirteenth, J. N. Riley; Fourteenth, N. A. Moxley; Fifteenth, Charles G. Burton.

Kentucky—Third District, W. O. Hunter; Fourth, John W. Lewis; Fifth, Walter Evans; Ninth, Samuel J. Pugh; Tenth, H. Thomas Hopkins; Eleventh, David G. Colson.

THE BOSS REFORMER.

An Unique Testimonial Suggested for Dr. Parkhurst.

Associated Press Leased-wire Service.

NEW YORK, Nov. 9.—It has been suggested, and be carried out, that, as a testimonial to the Rev. Dr. Parkhurst in the work performed by him in bringing about the purification of politics in New York, a chair shall be endowed in Columbia College in his honor. It is proposed to call it the Parkhurst chair of municipal reform, and to install Dr. Parkhurst as its first professor. If the proposition takes tangible form, $100,000 will be devoted to the endowment. Today the subject will be taken up, and discussed by the Committee of Seventy, before which body the suggestion was laid.

TEXAS.

LARGE POPULIST GAINS—ONE REPUBLICAN CONGRESSMAN.

Associated Press Leased-wire Service.

AUSTIN (Tex.,) Nov. 9.—Returns from the State show large Populist gains, but Culberson (Dem.,) for Governor, will have a plurality of about 40,000. In the Twelfth Congress District, Noonan (Rep.) is elected by 500 majority. The result in the Thirteenth District is close between Cockrell (Dem.) and Gilliland (Pop.) with the chances favoring Cockrell. Eleven districts are Democratic.

SOME CLOSE VOTES.

GALVESTON (Tex.,) Nov. 9.—From returns received here it is safe to state that the Democratic ticket is safely elected by 40,000 plurality, Culberson (Dem.) for Governor, running about 10 per cent. behind his ticket, because of his free silver views.

The Congress delegation will not be solidly Democratic. Keenan (Rep.) in the Twelfth District is elected by 10,000 plurality. In the Sixth Kerby (Pop.) is so close to Abbott (Dem.) that official returns will be necessary to determine the result. The same condition exists in the Thirteenth, where Gilliland (Pop.) has the lead over three Democrats on a split ticket, and in the Seventh, where Barber (Pop.) is slightly ahead of Pendleton (Dem.) as far as counted. The cumbersome ballot law in the cities and the tardiness in rural precincts make the official count in doubt.

RETURNS AS RECEIVED AT DALLAS.

DALLAS (Tex.,) Nov. 9.—Not more than one-third of the vote of the State has been reported, but enough is known to predict the success of Culberson (Dem.,) for Governor, by about forty thousand plurality. He runs from ten thousand to fifteen thousand behind the balance of the State ticket.

The Democrats certainly elect Congressmen in eight of the thirteen districts, namely: First District, Hutcheson; Second, Cooper; Third, Oaky Yokum; Fourth, Culberson; Fifth, Bailey; Ninth, Sayers; Tenth, Crowley; Eleventh, Crain. In the Twelfth, Noonan (Rep.) has from fifteen hundred to two thousand plurality. In the Thirteenth, Gilliland (Pop.) is probably elected. He is leading by nearly one thousand votes, and the Democratic strongholds have been mostly heard from.

In the Sixth District the official count will be necessary to determine between Abbott (Dem.) and Kearby (Pop.) The same is true of Pendleton (Dem.) and Barber (Pop.) in the Seventh, and Bell (Dem.) and Jenkins (Pop.) in the Eighth. The chances slightly favor the Democrats in all three districts.

NEW YORK.

THE COMMITTEE OF SEVENTY WILL ORGANIZE PERMANENTLY.

NEW YORK, Nov. 9.—At a meeting today of the organization known as the Committee of Seventy, it was unanimously decided to make the organization permanent.

MAYOR GILROY WILL RETIRE.

NEW YORK, Nov. 9.—It is said that Mayor Gilroy will retire from politics at New Year's. When he goes out of the Mayor's office January 1 he will follow the example of Richard Croker and depart from Tammany Hall.

His experience as receiver of the Mitchell & Vance Co. several years ago, it is said, proved so satisfactory both to himself and to the company that he has been anxious ever since to break away from the political treadmill and turn his attention to business.

As to his further intentions nothing is settled except that he will take a good, long rest the first thing. He may go to Europe with his wife as soon as he gets out of office, but that will depend upon the advice of his physician. His wife's health is not very good, and he will not take her abroad in midwinter against the advice of her doctors. The trip may be postponed until spring or early summer.

Tammany is talking of re-organization. Who shall do it and how it shall be done is the question. Under the new constitution the city is to be redistricted and five new Assembly districts added. The annual re-organization of Tammany will be put over this year from December to January, and advantage taken of the new districts to get hold of several old leaders.

NEBRASKA.

CONGRESSMAN BRYAN GOING OUT OF THE POLITICS BUSINESS.

Associated Press Leased-wire Service.

OMAHA, Nov. 9.—Congressman Bryan issued a manifesto to Nebraska Democrats tonight, in which he sums up the causes which led to the defeat of the fusion forces, and announces his retirement from the political arena. He says:

"I shall continue as a lawyer and an editor to advocate fusion of Populists and Democrats. It is the only hope against combined monopoly. If all the Democrats had acquiesced in the action of a majority of the party, we could have elected all the State officers. If the Populists had shown more liberality in their treatment of friendly Democrats, we might have secured a Legislature in harmony with the Governor, and could then have selected a Senator favorable to tariff reform, to the free coinage of silver at 16 to 1, to an income tax and to the election of United States Senators by direct vote of the people."

FIVE COUNTIES TO HEAR FROM.

OMAHA (Neb.,) Nov. 9.—Complete returns on Governor have been received from all but five counties of the State. They show a plurality for Holcomb (Fusion) over Majors (Rep.) of 2600. Five counties to hear from will increase Holcomb's plurality about 200.

TENNESSEE.

TURNEY (DEM.) BEATS EVANS BY NEARLY FOUR THOUSAND.

Associated Press Leased-wire Service.

NASHVILLE (Tenn.,) Nov. 9.—Full returns from sixty-nine counties and a majority of the returns from nineteen counties give Turney (Dem.) 3718 over Evans (Rep.) for Governor.

MISSOURI.

THE DEMOCRATS CARRY BUT FOUR ELECTION DISTRICTS.

Associated Press Leased-wire Service.

ST. LOUIS, Nov. 9.—According to the latest returns the Republicans have carried the First, Fourth, Seventh, Eighth, Ninth, Tenth, Eleventh, Thirteenth, Fourteenth and Fifteenth districts while the Democrats have been successful only in the Second, Third, Fifth and Sixth.

THE STATE SENATORS.

JEFFERSON CITY (Mo.) Nov. 9.—Of thirty-four State Senators, eighteen will be Democrats and sixteen Republicans. The house will stand: Democrats, 62; Republicans, 76; Populists, 2.

BOTH CLAIM IT.

MEXICO (Mo.,) Nov. 9.—Congressman Clark at noon today claims his election by 1338. W. S. Hathaway, chairman of the Republican Committee is positive that W. M. Treloar is elected by a little over 100.

ILLINOIS PROBABLY GRATEFUL.

DENVER, Nov. 9.—Gov. Waite today denied that he will remove to Illinois.

KENTUCKY.

JUDGE DENNY BEATEN BY 101 VOTES—HE WILL CONTEST.

Associated Press Leased-wire Service.

LEXINGTON, Nov. 9.—The official count gives W. C. Owens, (Dem.,) 101 plurality over George Denny, (Rep.,) in the Ashland district. Judge Denny alleges that thousands of Republicans were denied the right to register in Lexington and that frauds were committed at the election district of his opponent, and says he will carry the contest to the House of Representatives.

OTHER STATES.

MINNESOTA'S LEGISLATURE—COLORADO AND ALABAMA.

Associated Press Leased-wire Service.

ST. PAUL, Nov. 9.—The Legislature stands: House 93 Republicans, 3 Independent Republicans, 9 Democrats, 10 Populists, giving a straight majority of 72. In the Senate, 43 Republicans, 3 Democrats, 8 Populists, a Republican majority on joint ballot of 103.

COXEY'S VOTE.

EAST LIVERPOOL (O.,) Nov. 9. — The official count in the Eighteenth District complete gives Taylor (Rep.) 20,835, Daff (Dem.) 10,006, Coxey (Pop.) 8918. Coxey's vote exceeds the estimates of the Republican and Democratic committees by 5000.

LAYS IT TO THE ADMINISTRATION.

SPRINGFIELD (Ill.,) Nov. 9.—In an interview today, Gov. Altgeld said that Democratic defeat was due to widespread dissatisfaction with Federal administration.

EVANS PULLING UP.

NASHVILLE, Nov. 9.—The vote for Governor is very close between Turner (Dem.) and Evans (Rep.,) and official returns will be necessary to determine the result. Indications point to Evans's election.

THE VOTE IN SEVENTY-SIX PRECINCTS.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 9.—Complete returns from seventy-six in a total of 161 precincts in the State of Nevada give Cleveland (Rep.) for Governor 2525, Jones (Silver) 3448, Winters (Dem.) 280, Peckham (Pop.) 552.

For Congress, Newlands (Silver) 2862, Doughty (Pop.) 1913, Bartine (Rep.) 1855, Reiley (Dem.) 121.

MONTGOMERY (Ala.,) Nov. 9.—The official returns show the election of the following Congressmen: First District, Clark (Dem.;) Second District, Stallings (Dem.;) Third District, Harrison (Dem.;) Fourth District, Robbins (Dem.;) Fifth District, Cobb (Dem.;) Sixth District, Bankhead (Dem.;) Seventh District, Howard (Pop.;) Eighth District, Wheeler (Dem.;) Ninth District, Underwood (Dem.) A contest will be filed by Robinson in the Third and Goodwin in the Fifth (Pops.,) and W. F. Aldrich in the Fourth, and T. H. Aldrich in the Ninth (Reps.)

A CHEEKY SWINDLER.

He Schemes to "Work" the Candidates, but is Jugged.

Associated Press Leased-wire Service.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 9.—Thomas P. Santry, who is believed to be at the same time burglar and swindler, was under arrest in Marysville for a short time. He was taken into custody by a Constable at the suggestion of Postoffice Inspector Thrall, but on the way to jail managed to escape by swift running and clever dodging.

Santry is thought to have broken into several houses at Sacramento and is wanted here for trial in the Federal Court because he has been using the United States mails in trying to defraud all the nominees for public office in this State. Santry's scheme is something new in the swindling line. A week before the election he addressed to every candidate for office in the State letters of which the following is a sample:

"MARYSVILLE, Nov. 1, 1894.

"My Dear Sir: I thought I would drop you a few lines as I being a strong Democrat and a voter with influence in San Francisco, and it is drawing closely to election day, and I being a great distance from there; and the reason is I started on a pleasure trip and rolled things too high, and the result was 'go to work or starve.' I am just one month gone from the city, and not long enough here to transfer my registry, so I make appeal to you for the price of a ticket from Marysville to San Francisco and return, which is $6.20, and I will vote for you and use my influence on others. Please send me the above asked-for amount and you will do me a favor I will never forget in a long time. Please send as soon as convenient and oblige."

To Democrats Santry wrote as a Democrat, and to Republicans as a Republican. He was Populist, Prohibitionist, Non-partisan and Independent, too, his only aim being to get money and get it quick. In each letter he claimed to live where the victim lived, be it San Diego, Los Angeles, San Francisco or elsewhere.

Santry spoiled his plan by trying too hard to keep up the pretense of poverty. On each letter he put a 1-cent stamp, and left the envelope open. Of course the postoffice inspectors were notified before the letters were sent out. Inspector Thrall went to Marysville and waited until he saw that Santry voted there. Then he caused the arrest.

AN ENGLISH DEAN.

Very Rev. Hale Soliciting Funds in the United States.

Associated Press Leased-wire Service.

NEW YORK, Nov. 9.—Very Rev. S. Reynolds Hale, dean of Rochester Cathedral, England, made his first appearance in this country last night as a lecturer in Calvary Baptist Church. Dean Hale wore knee breeches and black silk hose. His subject was, "Imposters, Bores and Other Disagreeable People."

As a lecturer he is more chatty than oratorical and evidently made no special effort to achieve distinction for eloquence. The lecture, which lasted about an hour, was liberally interspersed with humorous anecdotes. He said he came here partly to see America and mainly to secure, through his lectures, funds to assist in restoring Rochester Cathedral.

Among the chief "imposters" the lecturer included women who imitate men in dress and manner. He declared the religious imposter to be the worst of his class.

STRANGE SERVICES.

Prayers for the Repose of the Czar's Soul.

President and Mrs. Cleveland and the Secretaries and Wives Present.

They Stood with a Lighted Candle During the Chants—A Full Delegation of Foreign Notables Attended.

Associated Press Leased-wire Service.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 9.—Profoundly impressive ceremonies were held at the Russian legation here today in memory of Czar Alexander III. President Cleveland and the entire cabinet except Postmaster-General Bissell attended, accompanied by Mrs. Cleveland and the cabinet ladies.

The services began at 9 o'clock with a mass celebration by Bishop Nicholas, of the Russian Greek Church, assisted by a Greek monk and two attendants. The services lasted till 10 o'clock and were in private, being attended only by Prince Cantacuzene, the Russian minister, his daughter and the officials of the Russian legation. At 10 o'clock chants and prayers for the repose of the Czar's soul began in the presence of the President, members of the cabinet and diplomatic corps.

Prince Cantacuzene met President and Mrs. Cleveland at the doorway and escorted them to places immediately alongside the altar. The President and his wife each carried a candle, as did Secretary Gresham and all others. Next to the President and his wife stood Prince and Princess Cantacuzene. Then came Secretaries Gresham, Carlisle, Lamont, Herbert, Morton, Smith and Attorney-General Olney, each bearing a candle. Back of them stood Ambassador Patenotre of France in full diplomatic uniform, with a crimson sash from shoulder to hip, and medals of honor on his breast.

Ambassador Saurma-Jeltsch of Germany was also in uniform, showing medals and decorations. The Chinese minister and suite were in the rich silken robes. Near them stood Minister Kurino of Japan and suite in the black and gold uniforms of Japan. The Korean officials wore their quaint, broad-brimmed hats and silken gowns. These and the other ministers and officers present gave a representation to every foreign country having a representative in Washington.

As the chanting began the candles were lighted, lending a weird and picturesque aspect to the scene. The bishop was robed in the elaborate vestments of his office, his tiara being set with mosaics, rubies and emeralds woven into jewelled embroideries, and his red velvet surplice being wound with a white satin stole embroidered with gold and small jewels. The Greek monk was robed in a lengthy flowing black gown falling from the top of a high headdress from which appeared the long and shaggy-bearded face of a typical Cossack of romance. This bishop and his attendants chanted the service alternately; the acolytes swinging the censer until the air was misty with incense. The service lasted half an hour, the candles being extinguished as the chants closed, after which Prince Cantacuzene escorted President and Mrs. Cleveland to the door and the guests withdrew.

ADMIRAL GHERARDI.

The Naval Veteran Retires After Forty-eight Years' Service.

Associated Press Leased-wire Service.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 9.—Tomorrow at noon there will be placed on the retired list the commandant of the New York Navy-yard, Admiral Gherardi, one of the few old war commanders now in the naval service, and known in naval parlance as the "Sea-going Admiral." He leaves behind him a career of distinction, full of hard fighting and severe service and without a blemish. His total active service amounts to forty-eight years five months, and twenty-five years eight months of that service were spent at sea. Even during the seven years he has held the rank of Rear-Admiral, in a time when few admirals make more than one cruise under their own pennant, he has been at sea about four and a half years.

Admiral Gherardi was born in Louisiana sixty-two years ago, and was appointed to the naval service from Massachusetts, June 29, 1846, as a midshipman. As a result of his retirement, Admiral Greer, at present president of the Lighthouse Board, becomes senior admiral of the navy; Commodore Card becomes commandant at New York, and the following promotions will follow: Commodore C. C. Carpenter to be admiral; Capt. Rush R. Wallace to be commodore; Commander W. C. Wise to be captain; Lieutenant-Commander R. M. Berry to be commander; Lieut. W. H. Everett to be lieutenant-commander; lieutenant, junior grade, J. E. Craven, to be lieutenant, and Ensign John M. Elliott to be lieutenant, junior grade.

A BLOODY TRAIL.

Two of the Cook Gang Commit Daring Crimes.

Associated Press Leased-wire Service.

COFFEYVILLE (Kan.,) Nov. 9.—Two of the Cook gang plundered the town of Lenapah, I. T., and left a bloody trail behind this afternoon. They entered the town in the character of bold bandits, without any attempt at concealment, and terrorized the citizens until they had carried out their plan of robbery. E. E. Mellow, a brave young man, who attempted to stop them with his gun when they were riding away, was shot and instantly killed. Another man, whose name cannot be learned tonight, is reported to have been seriously wounded. Both of the victims were with a small force of citizens, who hastily armed themselves and attempted to prevent the escape of the bandits.

The robbers were mounted on fast horses, and were heavily armed. Some of the citizens claim to have recognized them as Cherokee Bill and Jim French, well known as lieutenants of Bill Cook, the leader of the gang. The robbers held up the proprietors of two stores and looted both places. They also robbed the postoffice. John Shuffeldt, the proprietor of one of the stores, lost $100 in money and a gold watch. Mr. Shuffeldt proclaimed his loss to the town before the robbers had finished their work, and the band of citizens were almost between them and their horses when the robbers were ready to mount.

An effort was made to stop them, but but they were on horseback with drawn pistols and were flying away before their would-be captors could make a concentrated move. A report says the bandits are headed for Perryville, which is only fifteen miles from Lenapah. That place is the scene of many tragic robberies, and the police with volunteers are prepared to meet them in the same way they met the Daltons two years ago, when almost the entire band was wiped out.

A Serious Joke.

BOSTON, Nov. 9.—Orwell Herrin, 12 years old, a student at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology stood all last night during the storm on the bank of the Charles River clad in a full dress suit and bluidfolded. He finally fell from sheer exhaustion and is now under a doctor's care. The ordeal was a part of an initiation into a school society. The young man's parents threaten to prosecute the perpetrators of the affair.

A MODERN STEAMSHIP.

Mrs. Cleveland to Christen the St. Louis Monday.

Associated Press Leased-wire Service.

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 9.—All arrangements have been completed at Cramp's ship-yards for the launching of the American line steamer St. Louis on Monday next. This event has attracted more attention than any similar affair in recent years because the St. Louis is the first modern ocean passenger vessel built in this country, and the preparations have been on a larger scale than usual.

Mrs. Cleveland is to christen the ship, and she will be accompanied from Washington by a distinguished party, including the members of the Cabinet and their wives. The ship is 556 feet long, and when her stern is in the middle of the channel about 100 feet of her bow will still be on the ways, and if there is any tide at all, there is danger of the great hull being twisted. The launching-stand from which Mrs. Cleveland will break the traditional bottle of champagne on the point of the steel bow as it glides past her is built to accommodate 400 people. On this will be Washington guests and the officers, and the principal stockholders of the Cramp Ship-building Company and the International Navigation Company. Two immense stands to accommodate other invited guests have also been erected.

WORDEN CONVICTED.

The Train-wrecker Guilty of Murder.

Applegate and Hatch are Much Worried by the Jury's Decision.

A Mining Superintendent is Killed—The Old Bark Mars to be Broken Up—A Painter Killed.

Associated Press Leased-wire Service.

WOODLAND, Nov. 9.—Samuel G. Worden, one of the several A.R.U. men charged with having wrecked a Southern Pacific train during the strike in July last, causing the death of Engineer Clark and four United States soldiers, was today convicted of murder in the first degree. The jury offered no recommendation, and the penalty is death, or life imprisonment. The other accused train-wreckers will be promptly tried.

The jury in the Worden case is warmly commended on all hands for the promptness for which it rendered a verdict of guilty. His brother was not present, and was surprised at the result, as the prevailing opinion was that the jury would be out a long time, and probably "hang." Worden watched the jury closely, and listened to the reading of the verdict with much interest. When the court announced that sentence would be passed next Monday, Worden was quick to respond that if the jury could bring in such an unreasonable verdict he was ready to take his sentence now.

J. E. Strong, counsel for the defense, says that he will move to set the verdict aside on the ground that the court had no jurisdiction. If that motion is denied, he will then ask for a new trial on the ground that the court erred in its instructions to the jury. Worden showed no signs of weakening during the concluding scenes, and was in a cheerful mood when he was removed to the custody of the Sheriff.

Appleman and Hatch are said to be much worried on account of the prompt action of the jury. Their trial will begin on Monday, November 12. Counsel for the defense have not yet decided whether or not they will demand separate trials. The trial of Knox, Mullin and Compton will be called on the 20th inst. The remaining defendants have retained Gen. Hart of Sacramento and E. E. Gaddis of Woodland.

A BURGLARIOUS NEGRO.

Samuel Thomas Found with Stolen Property in His Possession.

Associated Press Leased-wire Service.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 9.—Two charges of burglary have been made against Samuel Thomas, a negro, who was arrested a few days ago on suspicion of being the burglar who had terrorized the residents of Nob Hill in this city. The police are positive that Thomas is the man who committed the murderous assault on Rev. Wolfe and his wife in Alameda when they were nearly cut to pieces with a hatchet. Property stolen from houses in Alameda has been found in Thomas's possession.

A LUCKY WHALER.

The Old Bark Mars to be Burned for Her Iron.

Associated Press Leased-wire Service.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 9.—The whaling bark Mars, which recently came into port from the Arctic, has been dismantled and is to be burnt near here to secure the iron and copper that is in her. The Mars is one of the old style, square-ended, frigate-built barks, and when seen alongside modern vessels looks like a relic of a past age. The Mars was built at New Bedford, Mass., in 1824, has been almost constantly in hard service, and among seaman has always been considered the luckiest whaler afloat. To the many whalers in port her doom seems almost sad.

HE PLAYED CARDS.

An Alleged Italian Count Gambles Away Even His Clothes.

Associated Press Leased-wire Service.

NEW YORK, Nov. 9.—There were tears in the eyes of R. Demer, who is said to be an Italian count, as he told a curious tale of robbery to the New Rochelle police last night. He appeared as complainant against Guizzeppa Bolea and Centi Guizppi. The prisoners keep a saloon on Mechanic street, which is much frequented by Italians. Games of chance are played there. Demer went there and was induced to join in a card game.

Before the Count knew what had happened they had made a clean sweep of his possessions, for he had gambled away $80 in cash. Then his watch went. Next they got his overcoat and, finally, in a fit of desperation he staked the suit of clothes he wore and lost that. The men made him strip and clad only in a shirt he made his way to the police station and caused their arrest.

THREW A BOMB.

THE WESTERN PASSENGER ASSOCIATION SHAKEN UP.

The Burlington, Cedar Rapids and Northern Announces it Will Apply Short Line Rates to This Coast.

Associated Press Leased-wire Service.

CHICAGO, Nov. 9.—The Burlington, Cedar Rapids and Northern road today threw a bomb into the Western Passenger Association. It announced to all the roads in the association that it would apply short-line rates from Waterloo, Iowa, to all points in Montana, and to North Pacific Coast points as well. The notice came as a complete surprise to the association lines, and they claim that the action of the Burlington, Cedar Rapids and Northern is altogether irregular.

The road causing all the trouble is a member of the association, but its notice to the other association lines was made direct to them, and not through the chairman, as is usual in such cases. The application of the short-line rates will reduce the basing rate from Chicago to North Pacific Coast points by $2.

EXPERT LITTLE'S REPORT.

NEW YORK, Nov. 9.—Expert Little's report on the financial condition of the Atchison road will be given to the public on Monday next in this city, London and Amsterdam, having been sent forward to the two last-named cities by mail, so as to be issued simultaneously in all three places. A report is current that Little's statement wipes out the profit and loss account, and will make other unexpected disclosures.

THOSE MILEAGE RATES.

PORTLAND, Nov. 9.—A leading Oregon Railway and Navigation Company official, when interviewed today on the subject of the disagreement between that road and the Union Pacific, said:

"General Passenger Agent Lomax of the Union Pacific in his statement yesterday forgot part of his story. He assumes that the divisions prior to the lease were just and equitable; as a matter of fact they were wholly unsatisfactory, not being even a mileage pro rata. He also seems to forget that since the lease, not only the mileage of this road, but its bonded debt has been nearly doubled. I have an idea that Lomax has been so used to making divisions for both roads that he has forgotten there is any other way—but he means well."

The Oregon Railway and Navigation Company wants the percentage division basis to apply on all business, whether it is greater or smaller, than the Oregon Railway and Navigation's local rate. The managers ask identical division with the Union Pacific at Huntington as they now receive from the Great Northern at Spokane on the same kind of a contract.

SOUTHERN PACIFIC ORDERS.

The following circular notice has been issued by Superintendent Fillmore of the Southern Pacific Company, the orders contained therein to take effect November 15:

"The lines between Lathrop, Stockton and Fresno, including the Raymond branch, are added to the western division, and will hereafter be operated by A. D. Wilder, superintendent, with headquarters at Oakland Pier.

"All lines between Mendota, Fresno and Los Angeles, now embraced in the San Joaquin division, including the Pollasky branch, will hereafter be known as the San Joaquin division.

"D. Burkhalter is hereby appointed superintendent of the San Joaquin division, with headquarters at Bakersfield.

James L. Frazier is hereby appointed superintendent of the Coast division, vice W. H. Haydock, assigned to other duties.

"James Agler is hereby appointed superintendent of the Truckee division, vice J. H. White, assigned to other duties.

"H. Cooley, in addition to his duties as resident engineer, is hereby appointed superintendent of the Shasta division, vice James Agler, transferred."

PROSTRATED WIRES.

Heavy Loss of Telephone and Telegraph Companies.

Associated Press Leased-wire Service.

NEW HAVEN (Ct.,) Nov. 9.—It is almost impossible to describe the damage to the wires in this State by Monday's storm. A competent authority places the loss of the telegraph and telephone companies at fully $100,000. Not only is the loss in replacing the wires great, but the loss of revenue from commercial business is heavier.

In this State more than eight thousand poles have been reported down and 20,000 miles of wire are said to be down. Where the poles have stood, the wires have gone down so loaded with ice that a man could not lift a section to replace it on the poles. There is yet no Eastern connection in the State. Hartford has but two wires, and Middletown a single test-wire working. The loss to other property was very heavy.

A Cheap Show.

LONDON, Nov. 9.—The crowds which witnessed the procession today attending the installation of the new Lord Mayor, Alderman Sir Joseph Renals, were far smaller than usual on such an occasion. The decorations were tawdry and the procession itself was far from comparing with those some years back.

A GANG OF THUGS.

Plot to Kill Chicago Election Judges.

Ballot-boxes to be Seized and Carried off by Main Force.

A Young Swede Murdered by the Toughs While Watching at the Polls—Further Disclosures of a Startling Nature.

Associated Press Leased-wire Service.

CHICAGO, Nov. 9.—The murder of Gus Coliander, the young Swede who was murdered by a gang of toughs while watching the counting of ballots in the Ninth precinct of the Twenty-third Ward last Tuesday, promises to develop into a celebrated case.

Indignation meetings were held in nearly every ward on the North side last night to protest against the election outrages and pledge united action in avenging the death of Coliander who died in defense of the ballot. In each meeting resolutions condemning the brutal murders and assaults and the men in office who are responsible for them, were adopted. Fervid speeches demanding retribution both in the courts and at the polls, were made and applauded by Democrats and Republicans alike regardless of party strife or affiliations.

The facts brought to light by the police drag-net indicate more conclusively than ever that the Market-street gang, otherwise known as the O'Mally gang, had formed a deliberate plot, not only to seize the ballot-boxes of the precincts by main force, but to kill the judges and clerks if necessary. It is known that the members of the gang, all of whom have more or less unsavory records, held a number of meetings in the rear of a Market-street saloon, and that their plans were only less perfect than those of the Cronin murderers.

The Record (Independent) today says: "There are indications that men of influence and city office-holders were in communication, if not in direct collusion with the gang; that they had promised its members immunity from police interference, and that they had paid them livery bills for the carriages that were used both before and after the murder of Coliander. If the facts which were hinted at can be proved, the case will furnish most sensational developments, and the names of persons high in office will be dragged into it. It is also evident that the bravado of the gang is not yet broken. Its members who are still at large and rely on the promised protection have shown their hands several times by appearing to threaten the lives of men who are supposed to have inside information as to their doings.

"E. M. Dickinson, the Republican challenger at the polling-place, No. 113 Illinois street, who was beaten almost to death, was approached by two men on Thursday as he lay in his room, No. 11 Clark street, and was ordered to keep silent as to his knowledge of the gang under pain of death. Shortly afterward he was taken away by his friends, and the report that he was dead was subsequently published in order to throw his persecutors off the track. He lies at the home of his physician, where he is being watched closely. Fears are entertained that the bruises which he received will ultimately cause his death.

"With this in view the Civic Federation visited Mr. Dickinson and took a full statement as to his knowledge of this gang and the facts which led up to the attack on the polling-place where he was stationed. The men captured Thursday, with the exception of Jack Dougherty, whose connection with the case could not be established, are still locked up at the station. So far they have refused to say a word which will show that they were concerned in the gang's raid.

"The men the police most want are John Sanitry, 'Maj.' Sampson, "Uncle" Lynch and Frank Conley. Inspector Schaack is certain that Sanitry was the man who was shot through the body, and that he must be in a very bad condition, if he is still living at all, but the police thus far do not seem to have located him. Eddie O'Brien, who is asserted to have fired the fatal shot, was arrested last night. The Civic Federation has already gone vigorously into the work of prosecuting the gang. It began to collect its evidence yesterday, and no effort will be spared to convict those who are guilty. No warrants will be sworn out, however, until the police have done what they can toward finding the men wanted.

Inspector Schaack says he is perfectly willing to catch such men as he can, and turn them over for prosecution. He thinks the great difficulty will be in getting the necessary identification of the men who were implicated in the murder of Coliander, although it will be a comparatively easy matter to pick out the ones who were concerned in the riots at the other polling places. 'They are all slippery criminals,' he said. 'They have been all over the country, and served their time in a number of penitentiaries, and it is correspondingly difficult to locate them.'"

The Inter-Ocean (Rep.) today contains grave charges of connivance at the election day outrages by Inspector Schaack and Police Captain Gibbons. The following occupies a prominent place, under the caption, "Schaack is Accused;"

"Charles Shepherd, the boy cabman, who was cruelly shot by the thug Senator, J. F. O'Malley, was reported as somewhat better, but his recovery will only mean the miserable life of a cripple. Nicholas Varalos yesterday swore out a warrant for the arrest of O'Malley, charging him with making threats to kill. Wednesday night O'Malley is alleged to have called at Varalo's home and threatened him.

"'He told me that if I prosecuted him for shooting me in the arm he would shoot me in the head,' said Varalos. The warrant was given to Constable Lauer, but has not been served. Inspector Schaack stated yesterday that he had a warrant for the arrest of Senator John F. O'Malley for shooting Varalos and that he had sent an officer to serve it. Just the same O'Malley was not arrested up to 4 o'clock.

"The public may wonder at the delay in the arrest and prosecution of O'Malley, but the fact is too many of O'Malley's family are among the officers who are supposed to be industriously searching for him. Capt. Gibbons, who is in command of the East Chicago-avenue police station under Inspector Schaack, is a cousin of John F. O'Malley, and is glove in hand with this desperate gang which is mainly composed of members of the different branches of the one family which has made the Twenty-third Ward a disgrace to Chicago. Capt. Gibbons is also either No. 7 or No. 8 in Camp No. 20 Clan-Na-Gael, and it is not likely that the influences which will be brought to bear upon the captain will be entirely ignored by him."

Prince Bismarck's newspaper officially denies the story that Bismarck in an interview compared the Anarchists of Europe to the pigs. When Bismarck read the slander he said: "I would not disgrace my pigs with such a comparison."

A NEW LOAN.

The Government Proposes to Gobble Up Another Fifty Millions.

Associated Press Leased-wire Service.

NEW YORK, Nov. 10.— The Press says that after the close of business houses today it was announced that the government would ask the bankers for another loan of $50,000,000 gold bonds for that amount, bearing 5 per cent. interest, will be issued within a few days, at a price that will net investors about 3 per cent. annually. Assistant Secretary of the Treasury Curtis has been in this city for several days, and has had conferences with the presidents of national banks and trust companies.

One of the bank presidents said today: "Yes, there will be an issue of bonds shortly. Probably within the next week or two Secretary Carlisle will call for investors. President Cleveland and the Secretary have determined that the gold reserve shall not be further depleted. If the people do not take all the bonds, as it is probable they will not, the bankers who floated the loan issue will subscribe."

As far as is known in this city the exact amount of the issue has not yet been ascertained. The issue will undoubtedly reach $50,000,000. It has not yet been decided whether a syndicate will be formed to take these bonds or not. That also will depend upon the action of the authorities in Washington.

A BURNING COUNTRY.

Firest Fires Raging in West Tennessee and Eastern Arkansas.

Associated Press Leased-wire Service.

MEMPHIS, Nov. 9.—Forest fires are raging in West Tennessee and Eastern Arkansas, and a cloud of smoke has settled down over the city and surrounding country like a fog. The passengers on the steamer Lady Leo, which arrived this evening, bring terrible tales of losses and suffering from forest fires on both sides of the river north of Memphis.

In Mississippi county, Ark., several plantations have been devastated, and the tenants left homeless. The flames are fanned by a stiff wind, and were spreading in every direction. The long drought has made the timber and cotton fields as dry as a powder-house, and nothing but a heavy rain will check the fire. The roar of the flames can be heard for miles, and the people become terror-stricken at the sight of the awful scene. The towns of Brownsville and Tobin, on the Tennessee side of the river, which were in danger last night, were saved by the prompt work of the citizens, who fought the flames all night.

Gov. Fishback Figuratively Jumps on the anti-Lynchers.

Associated Press Leased-wire Service.

LITTLE ROCK (Ark.,) Nov. 9.—Gov. Fishback has sent a reply to the letter of the anti-lynching committee of Englishmen. After acknowledging the receipt of the letter, he answers the questions asked by the committee as to lynchings within the State, and then goes on to say:

"Upon what possible system of reasoning does your committee, or do the English people base their assumption of the right to teach the people of this or any other Christian or civilized country, either morals or manners? If the people composing your committee were possessed of the intelligence which their exalted rank would indicate and ought to insure, they would not fail to appreciate the worse than folly of their almost ludicrous impertinence."

Labor Leaders Take Assurance from Olney's Letter.

Associated Press Leased-wire Service.

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 9.—The vigorous letter from Atty.-Gen. Olney read in Judge Dallas's court yesterday caused more of a stir in labor circles today than any other event since the Chicago strike. Labor leaders openly boasted that the letter carried with it the support and sympathy of the entire Cleveland administration, and they will use it for all it is worth. One of their first steps is to have 500,000 copies of it printed for distribution all over the country.

ARMED CHOCTAWS.

Serious Trouble Expected to Follow Lewis's Execution.

Associated Press Leased-wire Service.

ANTLERS (I. T.,) Nov. 9.—Gov. Gardner has received a lengthy telegram from Dist.-Atty. Alfred McClure of Alderson, telling him that 400 armed Choctaws are near Wilburton, and that his immediate attention was needed, as serious trouble was expected hourly. This is the result of the execution of Simon Lewis, near Wilburton, on last Monday.

Howard Gould's Fiancee.

NEW YORK, Nov. 9.—The World this morning says that gossip is revived concerning the reported engagement of Odette Tyler, the actress, to Howard Gould. It will be remembered that the engagement was declared off some months ago, owing, it was said, to Miss Tyler's resenting an objection on the part of young Gould's family. Now the rumor afloat is that the engagement was never really broken, and that the actress and the millionaire are betrothed as firmly as they ever were.

Refused to Indict.

JACKSON, (Mich.,) Nov. 9.—The Federal Grand Jury by a vote of more than 2 to 1 refused to indict the Governor, Treasurer and Auditor in the matter of the printing of the Mississippi State warrants, it being alleged by Chief Hazen, supported by Secretary Carlisle and Attorney-General Olney, that they violated the laws "on being in likeness and similitude of United States treasury and national notes."

Peter Pepper's Pickle.

LOUISVILLE, Nov. 9. — While crazed from the effects of a protracted spree, Peter Pepper, a barber, an inmate in the City Hospital, last night grasped his tongue in both hands and tore it partially from his mouth. All efforts of the hospital surgeons to save the man's life were unavailing, and he died shortly after.

A STORY OF INDIA.

The "Lost Opal of Mysore, or the Secret of the Ghauts", by William Murray Graydon, a thrilling serial story in ten chapters began publication in the youth's department November 4. It is a romance of India in the stirring time of a threatened mutiny, when His Royal Highness, Cham Bahadur, Rajah of Mysore, is making ready to throw off the British yoke.

A splendid opal, possessing miraculous power, has been stolen from the Indian Prince, and it is only when the jewel blazes in the royal turban that the Rajah feels he is under divine protection and safe from the might of British arms.

The story opens upon the simultaneous discovery by Pink Frescott, an English soldier, and the Rajah, of just where the magic opal is hidden. It is in the heart of the Ghaut mountains, and Pink, with two English lads and a little Hindoostan follower, set out to secure the treasure ahead of the Rajah's emissaries. The three days' race is an exciting one, full of daring adventures and hairbreadth escapes, till finally Pink and the boys discover and seize the opal, only to have it snatched from them in the very moment of their triumph. Of course, they save the town from mutiny and come off victorious in the end.

Readers of The Times will enjoy this high-class and spirited story.

THE BUSINESS WORLD.

The condition of the New York banks is a good barometer of general business. The reports show that the accumulation of idle money in the East continues. Last week the New York banks increased their surplus reserve $1,666,000, bringing the total up to $62,513,000 against $42,640,000 a year ago, and $2,332,000 two years ago. Here is an increase of $60,000,000 of idle money as compared with October, 1892. In nearly every part of the country the same condition is to be noted in banking circles. The deposits largely exceed the loans; the surplus reserve is far in excess of October 1893, and immensely greater than two years ago.

It cannot be expected that this condition of affairs will be entirely changed all at once, because the people have voted for a change in the political policy of the government. The effect of Democratic misrule will be felt for some time to come yet. That there will, however, be a speedy change for the better cannot be doubted. With a Republican Congress in power, a check will be placed upon the downward tendency of business and confidence will return. As we have frequently stated, it is confidence, not money, that is lacking at present.

THE PEOPLE HAVE SPOKEN.

There can be no possible doubt as to the meaning of the decisive verdict which was rendered by the people of the United States at the polls on Tuesday. There was but one great issue before the voters. The battle was fought upon that ground. The question to be decided was whether Americans approved of the free-trade policy or whether they desired a return to the protective system of which the Republican party is the exponent.

The Democrats cannot disguise the significance of Tuesday's political revolution, much as they would like to, and will doubtless try to. It was a clean-cut issue between protection and free trade. The people have declared in thunder tones that free trade is a delusion, a fraud and a failure. The battle of the ballots was one of the most remarkable and important that has ever been held in this country for many years. The prosperity of the country for many years to come was at stake. As we stated just before the election, it would indeed have been discouraging to patriotic Americans had it been found that voters did not appreciate the lessons of the past two years. They did appreciate them, and the old American spirit asserted itself. The country is safe.

This encouraging display of patriotic sense by the people should stiffen the backbones of those few Republicans who have recently shown a disposition to temporize with the free traders and throw cold water upon the beneficent law which the Democrats revoked. The people of this country are evidently in no mood for compromises. They have had enough of vacillation in high places. They have declared that thoroughly American statesmen shall be placed on guard, to protect and foster American interests.

The verdict of Tuesday will be confirmed in 1896, when, if Republican leaders are wise and patriotic, the Republican party, under McKinley, will put the finishing touches upon the Democracy, which is even now wounded unto death.

THE GUBERNATORIAL FIGHT.

The returns from the State are not yet complete, but remarkable changes have taken place in the vote for Governor as announced from time to time by the telegraphic dispatches. At the close of the count before daylight yesterday morning, Budd was leading Estee by a plurality of 2133, with 616 precincts unheard from. At the time of going to press this morning that plurality has been cut down to 778, with returns from 277 precincts still lacking. At one time last evening Budd's plurality fell below 700. The Examiner claims to have returns from all but one precinct in San Francisco which increase Budd's plurality in that city to 11,703, giving him a plurality in the State, as far as heard from, of 1355. With the final result as close as now seems apparent, it is very probable that the defeated candidate will contest the election before the next Legislature, and it is claimed by the chairman of the Republican State Central Committee that it can be shown where thousands of votes have been fraudulently counted for their candidate by the Democratic election judges and inspectors in San Francisco, which, if counted for Estee, will give him the election. Until such time as the Legislature shall decide such contest, however, the returns must stand as evidence of an election. In the East the Democrats appear to be going out of politics. Ex-Mayor Gilroy of New York is said to be contemplating a less hazardous career as a business man, while Congressman Bryan, who was defeated in Nebraska, goes back to the bar and editorial desk with a moan for the faithlessness of political connubiators who did not connubiate to the last.

THE POPULISTS.

It has already been told that the Populist bills introduced into the last Congress called for the creation of a public debt amounting to $35,000,000,000, or about $500 each for every citizen of the Republic. That was doing pretty well, considering that there were only fourteen of them in both houses. What the amount would have been had they been in a majority in each house—say fifty Populist Senators and two hundred Populist representatives—must be left to the imagination.

The Populists will, however, scarcely have a chance to ventilate their ideas. After all the big blowing on their part in regard to what they were going to do at this election, they have really, taking the country altogether, cut but a very small figure, and two of their most prominent men have been removed from public station. The people of the country are evidently not yet ready to turn over the management of public affairs to a body of dangerous cranks, like Waite of Colorado, who was snowed under by a large majority, in spite of the efforts which he made to play the demagogue and capture the vote of the miners.

In this State the Populists managed to roll up quite a considerable vote, but it is the opinion of many close observers that they have reached the highest point which they will attain, and that from now on they will be on the down grade. At the Presidential election, when such important questions will be at issue, it is not likely that many citizens will throw away their votes upon Populist candidates. If these people had placed a few statesmen in the front rank, they might have been able to obtain a considerable amount of power and do more damage than they have yet been able to, but their own leaders have been sufficient to defeat them. The more reasonable Populists admit, when they talk frankly, that there are altogether too many cranks among them.

The national debt was increased $13,680,854 during the month of October, the first full month of the operation of the Gorman-Wilson tariff. This was about the average monthly reduction of the debt under Republican management.

Business men can now take courage. After the stinging rebuke of last Tuesday the Democrats in Congress will hardly presume to reduce the tariff any further. Cleveland has two years from the 4th of next March to serve as President, hence there will probably be no material change in the tariff for nearly or quite three years to come. We shall not attain to the phenomenal prosperity which characterized the period following the passage of the McKinley act, but there is reasonably good ground to anticipate a great improvement in business within the next few months, as a result of the sweeping Republican victory.

Coxey, the high priest of vagabondage, received 8918 votes in the Eighteenth Congress district of Ohio to 20,835 for Taylor, the Republican candidate, and 10,007 for Daff, the Democratic candidate. That so rank a demagogue and blatherskite as Coxey should receive so large a vote is a pretty severe comment on the good sense and intelligence of the voters of the Eighteenth Ohio District. There are a great many kinds of fools in the world.

Ambassador Thomas F. Bayard expresses the opinion that "the necessity for Democratic tariff legislation was never so great as it is now." Mr. Bayard's residence in England appears to have completely imbued him with British ideas. The American people are of the opinion that we have had altogether too much Democratic tariff legislation, and they expressed that opinion quite forcibly on Tuesday.

There is a noticeable inclination on the part of our esteemed cotemporaries of the Democratic faith to say as little as possible about the recent election. Who can blame them? They can now have time and opportunity to write about the Schleswig-Holstein question, infant baptism, rutabagas, ensilage, cana agria and spots on the sun.

Such old-timers of the House as escaped Tuesday's cyclone will be rather lonesome when they look at the seats which Wilson, Springer, Holman, Bynum, Bland, Simpson, and other statesmen now out of a job were wont to occupy. But these seats will not by any means be vacant.

The election-day blizzard carried down more than 8000 telegraph and telephone poles, and 20,000 miles of wire in Connecticut alone, entailing a loss of over $100,000. The telegraph and telephone folks now know how the Democratic party feels over Tuesday's blizzard.

When Chairman Wilson recovers from his astonishment sufficiently to talk, some enterprising newspaper man ought to interview him and obtain his version of how it all happened. Professor Wilson's views would make mighty interestin' readin' just now.

Vice-President Stevenson, who had worked very hard for Democratic success, expresses himself as being greatly surprised at the results of the elections. Mr. Stevenson is not the only man in the country, by any means, who is surprised.

A stove manufacturer of this city has given his deliberate opinion that the iron turned out from our new Los Angeles rolling mill is "the best he ever saw." This is testimony worth recording and publishing.

The European powers are not disposed to intervene in the oriental war, and it looks as though the Emperor of the Sun would be obliged to make terms with Japan as best he can, without outside assistance.

Not least among the good results of the election is the announcement that Gen. Weaver, the flat moneymaniac of Iowa, is so much disgusted that he will retire permanently from politics.

Increased imports and decreased exports appear to be the principal results thus far accomplished by the new tariff. Both are injurious in their effects upon American industry.

The London Chronicle declares that "the defeat of Mr. Wilson in West Virginia will be deeply regretted by his friends in London." Of course, of course! Jes' so!

MEMORIES OF THE WAR.

Subject of Gen. Lew Wallace's Lecture at Unity Church.

A large audience gathered at Unity Church last evening to listen to Gen. Lew Wallace, whose fame as an author of high merit has made his name familiar to everyone. His subject last evening was "The Army of the Tennessee," and one which proved especially interesting to old soldiers whose memories of the great struggle are still distinct, and to those who understand military tactics and are able to follow the movements of an army by hearing them described.

In begining his lecture, Gen. Wallace spoke of the charges which had been made against him for tardiness and remissness at the battle of Shiloh, and said that although he had been fully exonerated from these charges by Gen. Grant, he had written the lecture given last night, intending to deliver it sometime before an audience of old soldiers who would appreciate his motive, which was not to vindicate himself, but to do justice to the men who served under him, and who suffered from the imputations.

He explained the movements of his division during the battle of Shiloh most graphically, showing that his error was made through strict obedience, and by a mistake in orders sent him by the commander. His description of battle scenes was especially good, and he paid a most eloquent tribute to Gen. Grant, drawing a word picture of him which none could mistake. His descriptions of the discomforts of the march, and the uncomplaining fortitude of the men under his charge were very vivid, made more so by the use of many fine figures of speech. He held his hearers' close attention from beginning to end, and proved a most interesting speaker.

Gen. Wallace lectures tonight on "How I Came to Write Ben Hur," which lecture will, doubtless be particularly attractive to readers of his book of that name.

Upon his arrival in the city yesterday Gen. Wallace learned that it had become impossible for the members of the Soldiers' Home to be afforded the pleasure of hearing his lecture, and he immediately telegraphed them free admission if they could secure transportation. His "Ben Hur" lecture will undoubtedly have a crowded house. Gov. Markham will be present with many other notables. The Governor and Gen. Wallace will be banqueted and given a reception by the Loyal Legion immediately after the lecture. Ample accommodations have been made for seating the immense audience that will probably be present. Seats are now on sale at No. 120 South Spring street.

BOYLE HEIGHTS.

A Singular Case of Larceny Reported to the Police.

A mysterious theft was reported yesterday by Mrs. J. M. Bieloper, who lives at No. 1818 East Second street. The lady, whose husband runs a restaurant and is away all day, had, during the morning, received $5 from a roomer, Mrs. Ganahl, and had placed the gold piece on one of the pantry shelves. Upon looking for it later she could not find it, but the roomer claimed to have heard strange footsteps on the back porch, and suggested that probably some tramp had walked in and taken the money. Mrs. Bieloper scouted the idea, and continued to look for the coin, but without success. Later, Mrs. Ganahl went up town and, after she had gone, it was found that 10 cents more had been taken from the clock shelf, where Mrs. Bieloper was in the habit of keeping her small change. There was at the time 45 cents in this place, which she had received from a Chinaman, after paying for some vegetables, and of this amount only a single dime was missing. The lady, who says that she has been in the habit of missing small sums from time to time, thought that two assessments in one day was too much and sent for Officer Williams. He, of course, could throw no light on the case, but agreed to watch for the "tramp," if there was one.

Councilman Campbell was quite ill yesterday and confined to his room, the result probably of hard work and exposure during his late campaign. Dr. Barber is looking after him during his temporary disability.

The Street Superintendent yesterday had a gang of men at work at the corner of Michigan avenue and Chicago street, reducing the bank left in making the cut for the grade of the former street, and making the crossing passable for vehicles, which before could only get through by the taking of desperate chances on the part of drivers.

The Week of Prayer.

The world's week of prayer for young men commences tomorrow. It will be observed by special services at the Young Men's Christian Association. Sunday afternoon Rev. George E. Dye will make an address, and on Monday and Tuesday evenings, John L. Speares, State secretary of the association, will speak. The Goodwin brothers will furnish vocal and instrumental music for the evening meetings. All men are invited to attend.

Will Take an Outing.

A party of wheelmen from the Los Angeles Athletic Club is being made up for an excursion to Malibu rancho tomorrow morning. The party will take the 9:30 train on the Southern Pacific for Santa Monica wharf, from which place they will ride along the beach to the ranch and back, a distance of about twenty miles. The Trampers' Annex will also take the same train to Port Los Angeles, instead of the Santa Fe, as before announced, for their trip to Arch Rock. The party will return on the 4:30 train to Los Angeles.

City Teachers' Salaries.

School Superintendent Search has addressed a communication to teachers in the city schools, in which he says:

"The recent decision of the Supreme Court of the State of California as to the custody of the school funds, has necessitated a short delay in issuing the salary demands, which are in changed form. From statements made to this office, there is no reason to anticipate more than a few days' delay. As soon as all officials are ready to act, immediate word will be sent to all teachers."

Miss Davis's Concert.

The Blanchard-Fitzgerald Hall was filled with an appreciative audience last evening at the concert given by Miss Grace Remington Davis, who is well known in musical circles. Miss Davis was assisted by Edwin Clark, violinist, Miss Eva Crowley, pianist, and Miss Eva Elsworth, accompanist. An excellent programme was furnished, and the numbers well rendered.

Victory.

Now is the winter of our discontent
Made glorious summer by this fall election.
And all the Pops that gave us doubts and fears
Sunk beneath an avalanche of votes.
Now is the nation saved, let's hope forever,
Her toiling sons protected in their industry,
Her capital invested and her treasure
Hoarded in massive vaults, distributed
Among the horny-handed sons of toil.
The free-trade theorists are furnished
With further time for thought—conviction.
New York Republican, and all the States,
By answering echoes loud, commend the grand result.
Where deep-dyed fraud a salted district
Returns are not so flattering.
But, God be praised! the Lexow inquiry,
The Kansas travesty, American intelligence,
Have caused the right to triumph.
Our party gains,
And, more than all, the G.O.P. still lives and reigns.

THE PUBLIC SERVICE

A Bond Election Ordinance Being Prepared.

An Opinion Rendered by Judge Shaw in a Damage Suit.

Cornell, the San Diego "Baby-farm" Man, Found Guilty of Having Violated the United States Postal Laws.

About the City Hall yesterday unusual quiet prevailed, although the officials in all of the departments were able to find enough office work to do to keep them employed constantly. In the City Attorney's office the bond election ordinance is being prepared, which, it is expected, will be ready for presentation to the Council on Monday.

In the case of Ryan et al. vs. the Southern California Railway Company, Judge Shaw yesterday rendered an opinion ordering judgment for the defendant, and in the United District Court W. J. Cornell was found guilty of having violated the postal laws.

The Board of Supervisors held a short business meeting.

AT THE CITY HALL.

The Bond Elections.

THE ORDINANCES TO BE PRESENTED TO THE COUNCIL MONDAY.

The final ordinance calling the election for the purposed issues of bonds for parks, schools and other purposes is being prepared in the City Attorney's office, and it is expected that it will be presented to the City Council at Monday's meeting. It is intended to have the ordinance of intention for the calling of a refunding bond election presented at the same time. As the time which must elapse before the refunding bond proceedings may be carried on far enough to hold the election for that purpose is longer than the time necessary for the completion of the proceedings to the point where an election for the issuance of school and other bonds may be held, it is expected that the date for the holding of the latter will be fixed late enough, so that the election for the former can legally be held the day following that on which the election for the latter is held.

As has been heretofore explained, a considerable sum of money can be saved by so doing, as the polling places for two successive days can, without doubt, be secured for a good deal less than for two separate days some time apart. Another advantage will be that there will naturally be less confusion, as voters who vote the first day will know just where to go the next day.

Extending Lake Shore Avenue.

The following has been prepared as a recommendation of the Land Committee of the City Council:

"In the matter of directing the City Attorney to commence proceedings to condemn the easterly eighty feet of lots 2, 3, 4 and 5, block 40, Hancock's survey, for the continuation of Lake Shore avenue north of Baldwin avenue, on the west side of Echo Park, we recommend that the City Attorney be so instructed, and that all cost of the same in excess of $200 be taken from Echo Park fund, and that the $200 be paid by the city."

City Charter Revision.

The draft of the revised city charter, as agreed upon by the members of the City Council and committee of citizens, is being examined in the City Attorney's office, as to the legality of the various revised provisions. If the examination can be completed in time, and some other necessary details attended to, it is hoped that the document can be presented to the Council for approval at Monday's session. The earliest date on which the revision, as proposed, can be submitted to the voters of the city at a special election, to be called for that purpose will, under the law, be about February 1. If approved, or adopted at that election, there need be but very few days' delay in presenting it to the Legislature, and, when approved by the two houses, it may be in effect.

The Broadway Widening.

J. B. Lankershim and a number of others have filed a lengthy protest against the confirmation of the report of the commissioners for the widening of Broadway, between Ninth and Tenth streets. Among other objections given, it is urged that the expenses are excessive. A number of technical points as to the legality of the proceedings are also raised.

Reduced Fire Insurance Schedule.

The reduction of fire insurance rates in this city, which was referred to in The Times some three or four weeks ago, will probably be made within a few days. The Pacific Insurance Union, it is understood, stands ready to adopt the new schedule, reducing the rates in this city an average of about 15 per cent. as soon as the organization of the Los Angeles Board of Underwriters is perfected. With the exception of one or two agents, all whom it was hoped would join this association have done so. A meeting of the local agents forming this organization has been called for Monday afternoon, for the purpose of considering the propriety of adopting the new constitution and by-laws. Should these be adopted, it is expected that the Pacific Insurance Union will at once, or at least within a very short time, put into effect the reduced schedule spoken of, which schedule has already been prepared and printed.

Public Works.

The Board of Public Works had a short meeting yesterday morning, at which recommendations were prepared in the matters of a number of petitions for street grading and similar improvements. It was decided to recommend in the question of quality of the work on New Fourth street, between Lucas avenue and Fifth street, that D. F. Donegan, the contractor, be notified to put more gravel on a part of the work, where it is not of the required thickness, and clean the street up generally where the work has been done.

City Hall Notes.

The Board of Health did not meet this week as is usual on the first Wednesday in the month, but will, perhaps, meet next week.

The warrant for the grading, gravelling, cement curbing and cement sidewalking of Third street between Chicago and Saratoga streets was issued to Moir & Smith, the contractors, by the Street Superintendent yesterday. The contract price of the work is $8542.80.

Interest in municipal matters, to which, during election time, little attention was paid, was revived somewhat yesterday. The Board of Public Works held a short meeting and most of the Councilmen were about the hall during the day.

D. F. Donegan has petitioned that Bunker Hill avenue between Montreal and Pearl streets be graded, graveled, cement sidewalked and cement curbed.

C. C. Rutherford and others petition that Whittier street be graded and cement curbed between Eighth and Ninth streets.

The City Clerk reports for the month of October the collection of $39 for redemption of tax sales. This represents seventy-eight redemptions, or, in other words, the raising of clouds from the titles of seventy-eight pieces of city property.

A petition was filed with the City Clerk yesterday for the nomination of John W. McCann for Councilman from the Fourth Ward.

AT THE COURTHOUSE.

The Courts.

A DAMAGE SUIT DECIDED IN THE DEFENDANT'S FAVOR.

Judge Shaw rendered his decision yesterday morning in the damage suit of F. J. Ryan et al. vs. the Southern California Railway Company, in accordance with the following brief written opinion:

"I am of the opinion that the transaction between Harold B. Perry, acting as agent for Mary Perry, was not a gift or donation of the right-of-way, but was a sale, the consideration being valuable, viz., the location of a station at a particular point on the line. The power of attorney gave authority to the agent to 'dispose of all or any part of the land . . . for such sum, or sums, and upon such terms as he may deem advisible.' I think this gave him power to convey the right-of-way in consideration of the location of a station near the land. That would be a disposition of a part of the land, and the use of the word 'sum' does not, in my opinion, limit him to a money consideration.

"It clearly appears that it was the intention of give the right-of-way on which to build a railroad, and the inference is unavoidable that the way was to be given to the company that proposed to build the road. These and other circumstances shown by the evidence are sufficient to justify a finding that both parties intended that the name of the railroad company should be inserted in the instrument as the grantee, and that its omission was accidental, and the result of a mutual mistake. It is not supposable that the defendant would accept the instrument with knowledge of the omission. Even without any written conveyance the equitable right of the company in possession under a parol contract, and having made valuable improvements, and paid the price, would be a good defense to an action of ejectment. I am also of the opinion that the plaintiffs, as grantees of Harold B. Perry, are, under the circumstances, estopped to say that he did not have authority to make the conveyance.

"Judgment will be for defendant."

Court Notes.

In the Probate Court yesterday the argument in the famous Pratt will contest was resumed before Judge Clark. The entire day's session was consumed by J. H. Chapman, Esq., who presented the case on behalf of the contestants, and he had not yet concluded when court adjourned for the day. The matter will be taken up again this morning.

Upon motion of the plaintiff in the case of the State Loan and Trust Co. vs. J. T. Dunn et al., Judge Clark appointed D. H. Shultis as receiver therein, with $500 bond, and in another case brought by the same corporation against J. T. Morgan et al., Judge York appointed D. Neuhart as receiver, with $350 bond.

Pierre Eschardis, a Frenchman, was duly admitted to citizenship of the United States by Judge Van Dyke, yesterday morning, upon producing the requisite proof of qualification.

Upon complaint of W. E. Howell, one of her neighbors, Mrs. Anna Save, a native of France, 53 years of age, was taken before Judge Van Dyke and Commissioners Ainsworth and Wernigk, yesterday morning for examination as to her mental condition, but as it appearing that she was not dangerous, she was discharged.

Judge Shaw heard the case of C. W. Hatch vs. Domingo Oyharzabal, an action to recover $75 damages for an alleged trespass by defendant's sheep, appealed from Justice Adney's court in Antelope township yesterday morning, and reversed the judgment of the lower court on technical grounds.

Upon motion of Ben Goodrich, Esq., and presentation of license from the Supreme Court of this state, Calvert Wilson, Esq., was duly admitted to practice in the Superior Court by Judge Shaw yesterday morning.

The case of John Huber vs. Maggie Huber, an action for divorce, upon the ground of cruelty, occupied the attention of Judge Shaw within the closed doors of Department Five yesterday afternoon, but the matter was not concluded and went over until this morning.

Max Lemon, a native of Illinois, 34 years of age, was brought in from Pasadena yesterday, and duly adjudged insane, and was ordered committed to the State Asylum at Highland by Judge York, in accordance with the recommendation of Drs. Wernigk and MacGowan, the examining physicians. The unfortunate youth has been very much depressed for the past two weeks, and morbidly brooded over his past actions to such an extent that he lost his mind.

B. Solomon, who was recently held to answer to the charge of robbery, by City Justice Seaman, applied to Judge York for his release from the custody of the Sheriff, through the medium of habeas corpus proceedings, yesterday afternoon. The only ground upon which the application was based being the technical one that no information had been filed in the Superior Court within the statutory time, the petitioner was discharged.

New Suits.

Among the documents filed with the County Clerk yesterday were the preliminary papers in the following new cases:

Nora McCartney vs. John Moriarty et al., action to foreclose a mortgage for $1500, on the N½ of lot 9, block 30, Ord's survey.

Aldace F. Walker et al. vs. Southern California Improvement Co., action to recover $1757.89, alleged to be due as a balance for the freightage of certain lumber.

Chas. A. Isaacs vs. P. A. Barker et al., action to recover $210 damages, appealed from the Township Justice's court.

The Supervisors.

ROUTINE BUSINESS TRANSACTED BY THE BOARD.

At the meeting of the Board of Supervisors yesterday M. S. Cummings was granted permission to grade and curb Maxwell avenue, between Hoover street and Vermont avenue, upon filing a bond in the sum of $500, and upon the observance of the usual conditions.

The County Surveyor was allowed an additional deputy for thirty days, in order to close up the affairs of his office.

Mrs. Durkee having refused to accept the amount awarded her by the board as damages in the matter of the extension of Adams street, the District Attorney was directed to institute condemnation proceedings.

In accordance with the recommendation of the special committee appointed to investigate the matter of the Greenleaf-avenue bridge at Azusa, the bid of the Excelsior Bridge Company, to do the required work for $225, was accepted.

AT THE FEDERAL BUILDING.

The U. S. Courts.

A VERDICT OF GUILTY FOUND AGAINST CORNELL.

In the United States District Court yesterday morning the trial of W. J. Cornell, charged with having used the mails for fraudulent purposes, by corresponding through that medium with reference to a baby-farm in San Diego county, was concluded, the defendant being convicted in short order. The argument consumed very little time, the matter being submitted to the jury at 11 o'clock, and that body, after a deliberation of twenty-five minutes only, returned into court with a verdict of guilty as charged. Cornell was thereupon remanded to appear for sentence on Monday morning next.

The Federal grand jury presented a partial report to Judge Ross yesterday morning, returning one indictment, in response to which a bench warrant, with bail fixed in the sum of $2500, was ordered issued for the arrest of the person named therein. As he had not been apprehended last night, the authorities declined to divulge his name.

THE EXPOSITION BANQUET.

Members of the Press are Pleasantly Entertained.

The Los Angeles International Exposition banquet to the Press, given last night, was a most pleasant affair, and was thoroughly enjoyed by all the participants. After a tour through the different departments and an especially interesting visit to the Polish Art department, the guests sat down to a repast that will be remembered long by them for its excellence and the hearty good-fellowship that reigned around the board. General Manager Brown presided, and numerous toasts and speeches made time pass pleasantly.

The feature of the evening was the splendid playing of the Chevalier de Kontski, whose execution on the piano is something wonderful. The fact that he is to lead the orchestra nightly insures a treat to lovers of music.

The exposition opens tomorrow, and as it is intended to be a benefit, as a place of pleasure and instruction in the city, it is expected by the management that it will be well patronized.

TOO MUCH WHISKY.

Thomas Averill Creates a Row and is Arrested.

Thomas Averill was arrested yesterday afternoon on a charge of assault with a deadly weapon. He and Fred Johnson were indulging in a quarrel in the saloon at No. 111 South First street, when Johnson, in the course of an oration accompanied by the appropriate gestures, accidentally struck Averill in the face. An apology was given and taken immediately, but Averill tried to keep up the quarrel, whereupon the barkeeper requested the men to step outside. He made such energetic motions toward the door that Averill took offense and leveling his revolver on the barkeeper's chest ordered him to apologize or be "sent out" himself. The barkeeper cooled the man down and Officer Johnson took him to the city prison.

BADLY INJURED.

John Pallett's Unfortunate Experience at Rivera.

John Pallett, a fourteen-year-old boy, was almost killed at Rivera yesterday. He and another young fellow were riding fast horses on the training track, when a horse at the post, ridden by a negro, acting as judge, became fractious and jumped the track just as the racers were coming down the stretch. The negro dismounted to lead him off, but before he could do so Pallett's horse had crashed into his animal and the boy himself had been thrown on his head far to the other side. The two horses were killed, and the boy was last reported dying from concussion of the brain.

Drowned in a Zanja.

Walter Perkins, a little 2-year-old Rivera boy, met a sad fate yesterday at his home. His mother missed him and, after a prolonged search, found his body jammed up against the flood-gate at the end of a ditch that runs through their yard. He apparently had fallen into the ditch and was drowned, after which his body had drifted through a culvert down against the gate where he was found.

A NEW COLONY.

Pullman Unemployed to Remove to Baldwin County, Ala.

Associated Press Leased-wire Service.

CHICAGO, Nov. 9.—Within the next week there will be another exodus of unemployed from Pullman. A society under the name of the Lutherville Pullman Unemployed Organization was formed October 25. By agreement, the members, representing 500 families, should have started for their new homes within the two weeks of the formation of the organization.

The place chosen as a settlement for the colony is near Berkeley, Baldwin county, Ala. The promise of 2000 acres of ground at $5 per acre has been secured. This plat is located on the very spot where the last battle of the rebellion was fought, and is historic ground. It is located on the Tensas River, with deep water to the shore. Mobile lays twelve miles across the bay, and will be the natural shipping point for vegetables and fruits raised by the colonists. The land is in the midst of a fine timber country, where water is plentiful.

The originator of the scheme is Val Koch, a resident of Columbus, O. He was a soldier, and since the war has become a Lutheran minister. For seven years he has been trying to get some one to colonize some of the fertile portions of the South. Speaking of it, he said:

"While times were good I could not get people to listen. Now it is a ground-hog case. I think it will be a success."

DURANGO (Colo.,) Nov. 9. — Jesse Haller, who killed Frank Carpenter last spring, started out from Cortez yesterday, vowing to kill the entire Carpenter family. His trial was to have begun at Cortez yesterday.

Warmed the Dynamite.

HUNTINGTON, (Ind.,) Nov. 9.—Fifty pounds of dynamite exploded today on the Hallwood & Keifer sewer contract. John Hartman and Norton Keifer were killed and John Flynn fatally injured. The residences near by were badly wrecked. The damage is many thousands. The men were warming the dynamite when it exploded.

Carried off His Money.

LANDER (Wyo.,) Nov. 9.—Three masked men entered E. C. Enderly's store at Thermopolis, covered the proprietor with guns, and compelled him to give them $3150. He and others pursued the robbers and mortally wounded one, Jake Snyder. The others escaped.

FIELD OF POLITICS.

NO CHANGES MADE IN THE COUNTY VOTE.

The Federation of Republican Clubs Opens New Headquarters—The City Campaign Will Soon be on in Earnest.

The figures, as published in The Times yesterday, showing the county vote on each office, give the result as nearly as it can be ascertained until the official canvass is made. In any event, the slight changes which the adding or subtraction of a few votes may make, cannot offset the totals, so the figures given will stand practically as the correct returns. The official canvass will commence on Monday.

In the rooms of the Republican County Central Committee yesterday all was confusion. The campaign being over, and the victory won, the workers had no further use for the apartments in which the directing forces of the late county fight have been located during the past few weeks. Those who have been actively engaged in the work, however, will not cease their labors at present, for the City Central Committee has solicited the aid of the Federation of Clubs, under President Chamberlain, and the services of Secretary Conrad, to help in conducting the municipal contest.

As a result the Federation of Clubs will continue its organization for the present, and it promises to prove as effectual in the city campaign as it has been in the county work. The new headquarters will be in the rooms of the Los Angeles Republican Club, at No. 110 West Second street, and to this place the office furnishings were removed yesterday from the Main-street apartments.

The City Central Committee will hold a meeting as soon as matters pertaining to the general election have become settled, in order to map out a course of energetic work for the local contest. Nothing of importance has yet been done in this regard, and as there are but a few weeks between the present date and December 3, the fight, when it does open up, will undoubtedly be a short and sharp one.

Since the result of the election in the county has been made known, the fusion city candidates are not nearly so confident as they were a few days ago, and some of them have even been heard to make the statement that they were sorry that the "double-headed" honor had fallen to their lot.

The reports that Estee was gaining on Budd in the count of the vote of the State, which were circulated on the streets yesterday afternoon created considerable excitement. Republicans who had become somewhat apprehensive were delighted at the news, and the Democrats were correspondingly depressed. A number of Budd caricatures which had been posted up on all sides were torn down and placed safely away to await the coming of reliable information before being brought out again.

BAY BREEZES.

How San Diegans Regard the Overthrow of Tammany.

SAN DIEGO, Nov. 9.—(Special Correspondence.) People here, irrespective of party, seem as highly elated over the crushing defeat of Tammany Hall in New York, as they do over the success of their favorite State and county nominees. They say that Tammany's defeat is a manifestation of patriotism and an effort in behalf of securing political decency which is of national importance and significance, and attribute the successful overthrow of the rotten Tammany tiger largely to the stirring up of the public conscience by the Rev. Charles H. Parkhurst, D. D. Two years ago last February Dr. Parkhurst preached a sermon arraigning the municipal government of the metropolis, root and branch. He was called before the February grand jury and censured by it and by a Tammany Judge, Martine, for not producing evidence that would hold in court in substantiation of his pulpit utterances. The next month Dr. Parkhurst preached a more vigorous sermon reiterating his charges of February. Again he was called before the grand jury to explain. District Attorney Delancy Nicoll, Supt. Byrnes and others appeared shocked at the clergyman's audacity in questioning their integrity or the integrity of the administrators of municipal affairs—men conducting a system dubbed by Dr. Parkhurst as "rotten." This time Dr. Parkhurst produced evidence of 254 cases of failure of duty by city officials which evidence was good enough to stand in court. The March grand jury thanked Dr. Parkhurst and practically indicted the Police Department by saying that it either neglected its duty or that it was bribed not to do it. From then till Nov. 6, 1894, the Dr. Parkhurst movement has steadily progressed. The Lexow Committee was appointed owing to Dr. Parkhurst's demonstrations of municipal rottenness. Its exposure of corruption is appalling. Although villified and abused, Dr. Parkhurst has kept on courageously and gained his point. In a letter to The Times correspondent nearly two years ago he practically foretold the result recorded last Tuesday. This brave, gentle, genial man has an iron resolution when fighting for truth and decency. San Diegans on the streets and in the hotels openly applaud the name of Dr. Parkhurst because of his masterly work.

Democrats as well as Republicans enjoyed The Times cartoon Nov. 8, representing Morton annihilating the Tammany tiger with the club of a tremendous Republican majority. The opinion of the most distinguished New Yorkers of Dr. Parkhurst was expressed Thursday night by the Union League Club of New York in making him an honorary member.

A TECHNICAL POINT.

THE CERTIFICATE OF NOMINATION DEFECTIVE.

Democratic City Convention Officers Failed to Comply with the Provisions of the Law in Davis's Case.

A rumor has circulated about town that the filing of the certificate of nomination of Lecompte Davis, the Democratic nominee for the office of City Attorney, was technically defective.

Inquiry at the City Clerk's office developed the fact that the certificates of Democratic nomination for the various city offices were filed November 2, which date is the latest date permissible under the law. On the day following, November 3, Lecompte Davis, Mr. Melville and William Mead, the chairman of the recent Democratic City Convention, entered the City Clerk's office and asked to see the Democratic certificates filed the day before. City Clerk Luckenbach handed the gentlemen the certificates for inspection and it was observed that Mr. Davis's given name was spelled wrong, commencing with a D instead of an L.

Permission was asked to correct the name, and Mr. Luckenbach went to the telephone to call up the City Attorney's office to ask some one from that office to come down and give an opinion on the question. While he was at the telephone Mr. Mead signed his name in pencil as chairman of the convention, placing the signature underneath the jurat appended to the certificate where, according to the new law, a certificate is required, but where there had, up to that time, been none written. This action on the part of Mr. Mead was not, however, sanctioned by Mr. Davis.

The question of the asked-for change in the initial and also the question of the legal right of Mr. Mead to affix his signature to the jurat were by the City Clerk submitted to the City Attorney's office for an opinion and in reply Assistant City Attorney Dunn sent to the City Clerk the following communication:

"Dear Sir: Replying to your request for an opinion as to the validity of Mr. Davis' certificate of nomination: While the adding of the chairman's name since the expiration of the time of filing and the error in the name of the candidate are not in compliance with the law and possibly dangerous to the validity of the certificate, still I am of the opinion that Mr. Davis should not be deprived of his equitable rights by reason of the clerical error of others.

"I therefore advise you officially, and request you personally, to allow the officers of the late Democratic Convention to make such corrections in the certificate as may be necessary and to place Mr. Davis' name on the certificate in accordance therewith.

"I have placed this opinion in writing, that you may be relieved of any responsibility, as I am Mr. Davis's opponent for the office for which he has been nominated."

DISMISSED THE CASE.

Not Sufficient Ground on Which to Base a Complaint.

In the case of C. C. Harris vs. L. B. Whatley et al., a complaint in which, was filed in the Township Court on Thursday, charging the defendants with having illegally issued certificates of stock in the California Colonization Company, Dist.-Atty. Dillon yesterday, after examining the books of the company, recommended that the action be dismissed, there appearing to be no sufficient grounds upon which to base the complaint. An order was accordingly made dismissing the case.

THE price is a strong factor in selling goods. Quality and styles are a great aid; a combination of these ideas are sure to bring good results; our trade is far ahead of last season; we have been dividing the profits with you on the best class of goods this season; all through the house there has been a good trade; it has been growing better for the last six weeks. We have left the discussion of political questions to our local statesmen and have attended strictly to business; the results have more than paid us. At the present time you will find on the different counters a lot of Ladies' Jersey Ribbed Underwear; they are 50 cent quality; you can buy the choice today for 33⅓ cents; only a little lot; we are more than dividing the profits with you. Ladies' Combination suits for $1 and $1.50; we would not mention the goods if they were not a little under the regular price; they are all new; we take this way to increase trade; mark the goods at a low figure and sell larger bills. In the Millinery department we are selling out all the odds and ends in fine Fur and Felt untrimmed Hats for 25 cents; the regular price has been from $1 to $3.50. We advertise facts; we endeavor to impress the public with the truthfulness of our statements; advertising is a loss under any other plan; Cloakings that have been $3.50, now $2.50; we cut, fit and baste Capes free. The great sale of dress goods has been the means of drawing trade to all other departments; while we have sold goods very cheap, yet the large increase in trade has more than justified the experiment; At present the big 75 cent line is the greatest bargain we have ever offered in dress goods; worth and have been selling from $1 to $2 a yard, plain goods in all the leading shades and a large variety of first-class styles in fancy effects; they are all choice goods, and the large sales in the dress goods line is an indication that the people appreciate these grand values. Then there is the 25, 34, 40 and the 50 cent lines of double width goods that are exceptional values; the greatest bargain we have ever offered in $1 goods is the line of all wool goods in 50 and 54 inches; they are grand goods and grand values. Every Fur Cape in the house is new this season; the prices are very much lower than last. We are showing a big assortment of Prince Albert Coats and Golf Capes at very low figures. We have cut the profits one-half to largely increase the cloak trade.

THE NATIONAL BANK OF CALIFORNIA.

The National Bank of California is one of the few banks that successfully stood the shock of the late panic and maintained full coin payments right through.

The National Bank of California pays no interest on deposits in any form, offers no special inducements for business other than reliability when the customers exercise their right to demand their money.

In the matter of loans it looks more to reliability than high rates of interest, and desires no loans except from good and reliable parties, and then exacts good security, believing that no bank is better or more reliable than its loans.

Bradstreet's Review.

NEW YORK, Nov. 9.—Bradstreet's tomorrow will say that interest in the election this week naturally tended to restrict the volume of trade, particularly in the South, where it interfered with mercantile collections. But within a few days the influence of more seasonable weather in the West and Northwest, together with the emphasis with which political questions have apparently been settled

"The Land and Its Fruits."

ORCHARD AND FARM

RANCHO AND STOCKYARD

RURAL LIFE IN SOUTHERN CALIFORNIA

Crops and Markets.

In one sense the fruit business has been a satisfactory one during the past year, but in another sense it has not. Shipments have been large and prices have been low for fruit during the past season. Advices from the North state that in the canned line, contrary to expectation in the spring, the pack was largely in excess of that of any other year. The canners are willing to work on a low margin of profit, and the consequence has been that the pack of the State has been more nearly sold out than in any previous year. Sales have now practically stopped, as canners have all the orders they can possibly ship by the first of next month, when freight charges will advance from 50 to 75 cents a hundred. It is the expectation of those in business that trade will be dull for the next ninety days at least, or until the excess of shipments shall have been disposed of.

The dried-fruit product, like the canned, was much in excess of that of former years. Early in the season the report was circulated throughout the State that the fruit crop of the East was short, and, in many cases, had been destroyed. This led producers to expect high prices. There was a decline on almost all varieties from the time the market opened. The producers did not appear able to carry the fruit as formerly. Their desire to sell caused a reluctance to purchase on the part of Eastern buyers. Nevertheless, the shipments up to date for all varieties, except prunes, have been nearly double those of former years. Prices, however, ruled low. Those in the trade believe there will be a consumptive demand for all the dried fruit of California this year.

The lesson to be learned is that the dried fruit produced from July to October is nearly all consumed from January to July. During the interim some one has to carry the burden, and in years when speculators are out of the market and the Eastern buyers only purchase to satisfy their immediate wants, the burden falls upon the producer. Such is the case this season.

Shipments of green fruit proved disastrous, partly attributable to the long railroad tie-up. The prevailing opinion among growers now is either to sell to regular shippers or divert the fruit to other channels—the drier and the cannery.

The grain market in San Francisco has shown marked firmness, and prices have increased materially. This is in accordance with the opinion expressed in these columns from time to time, that the price of barley was bound to advance, as the seed season approached. The farmers of this section are now anxiously awaiting a good rainfall in order that they may go to work in earnest. Reports from various sections of Southern California indicate that a large area of land will be planted to grain this winter.

The Single-crop Fallacy.

The Times has on many occasions urged upon the producers of Southern California the necessity of introducing as great a variety of crops as possible. We do not believe that there is any danger of overproduction in the line of our valuable crops, as this is generally understood, but where a very large quantity of any one crop is produced before efforts have been made to furnish adequate market it must often result that there is a temporary glut and consequently loss to the producer. The best way to avoid this condition of affairs to to grow as large a variety of crops as possible.

J. B. Dodge, statistician of the Agricultural Department, in a recent report of that department, has furnished some valuable facts and opinions to farmers. Among other things, in speaking of the depressed prices, he refers the condition to the harmful influence of the single crop idea.

Upon the question of the permanency of agricultural production, he presents some striking and valuable facts. He points out that Europe, with four times our population, produces nearly enough subsistence for her own use; that all eastern Europe has a surplus, and that Italy's exports equal her imports; that the Netherlands, with only two and one-half acres to each inhabitant, require only a few million dollars' worth of agricultural imports in excess of agricultural exports; that France, with a population nine times as dense as ours, requires only about 7 per cent. of her consumption; that even insular and factory-studded Great Britain feeds half her population from her own soil, through the labor of one-eighth of her population and the other half could be fed if the game preserves and pleasure grounds were utilized for agriculture; that it requires four times as much area here to feed one person as it does there, which it would be absurd to claim as a necessity. He then shows, by incontestable proofs, that even in the States east of the Mississippi River land actually farmed is only partially utilized.

Upon the subject of surplus he shows how easily possible it is to largely increase the output as the markets may demand, and that our wheat possibility is one of price and profit, and not of land and labor. He then subhits tables to show that wheat growing in Europe is not declining. In his conclusions upon the subject he says:

"This country has not reached the limit of agricultural production; it has not even approached it. It is not true that the wheat of the world is declining. It is not difficult to prove the existence of 2,300,000 bushels as an average, and there is no prospect of decrease.

"The United States will continue to produce a surplus for export until the wheat culture of the United States shall have given place to more varied and profitable culture, and increasing numbers of non-agricultural population shall require for breadstuffs the entire crop." He adds:

"It is proper to say that the tendency is toward a better distribution of crops, and to higher prices and better profits. The proportion of agricultural labor will decrease, non-agricultural labor will increase, agricultural products will be more varied, rural intelligence and skill will advance, and the farmer will be in a better position to demand and secure an equitable share in the net proceeds of national industries."

These are certainly encouraging statistics for the farmers of Southern California. If the production of wheat even has not yet reached the limit, how much greater must be the margin for such products as we raise in Southern California, which can only be raised in such a limited area of territory? Important as the fruit product of California now is, it may safely be said that the great mass of the people of this country have scarcely yet begun to use California fruits. As the product increases further freight charges and the cost of distributing the fruit will be lessened and we shall look back with a smile to the time when we talked about overproduction. Meantime, let us try to introduce as many new products as possible which are adapted to this soil and climate, which means a great majority of the products that are raised in the world.

Hope for the Vineyardists.

At length there appears to be a prospect that the wine producers may succeed in effecting a permanent organization for their mutual benefit. This has been brought about only after many months of planning and attempts to form different organizations. First the attempt was made to combine grape-growers, wine-makers and wine dealers, but a failure resulted on account of one or two large dealers who refused to enter into the combine. Then an attempt was made to get together all the grape-growers and wine-makers, but this also failed, principally because it was impossible to satisfy such a large number of men with partially conflicting interests.

The San Francisco Chronicle announces that for several days secret meetings have been held in the office of Charles Webb Howard, No. 508 California street. There were between thirty and forty wine-growers present, and they represented all the dry-wine counties and nearly all the sweet-wine districts. The movement this time was for the purpose of banding together the wine-makers of the State. There are about 200 wine-makers in California, and all the principal large producers were present.

The idea of the new company is to secure a living price for the wines of California. It is not the intention to form a trust or combine, or to put the prices up high. A value will be placed on wines which will give the producers a fair profit, and still not restrict the sales of wines. After the previous attempts to combine all of the wine interests of the State had resulted in failure, several of the wine-makers who reside in the city began to realize that ruin would come upon them if they did not take some action. The persons were P. C. Rossi, Andrea Sharboro, Charles Webb Howard, D. M. Delmas, John T. Doyle, C. F. Montealegre and others. They finally decided that one more attempt to secure a profitable price for wine must be made.

All native wines are now selling at much less than it cost to make them. To let the present condition of affairs continue meant the destruction of the wine industry in California. Ordinary claret is selling at 11½ cents a gallon, on board cars ready for shipment. Deducting 5 cents a gallon for the cost of the barrel, 1 cent a gallon for cartage, etc., to say nothing fort he cost expense the dealer has met with in storing, the very highest price he can get for wine is 5 cents a gallon. This would leave very little for the producer after the retailer's profit has been taken out. Even in New York claret is selling for only 16 cents. The freight is 4 cents a gallon.

It was decided to incorporate immediately a company to be known as the California Wine-makers' Corporation. The capital stock was placed at $10,000, divided into 100,000 shares of the par value of $100. The stock is to be sold only to grape-growers and wine-makers, and wine and grapes will be received in payment of the stock. The prices of the wine and grapes will be fixed in accordance with their quality. Special prices will be allowed for fine wines. The idea is that all the wine-makers shall put their wines into the hands of the corporation. When any sales have been made, no matter whose wine was sold, the proceeds will be divided monthly pro rata among the stockholders according to the amount they placed in the hands of the corporation. It, is, therefore, the most mutual of all mutual organizations.

The board of directors will be composed of nine stockholders, and it will be the duty of the board to arrange a certain schedule of prices for the various kinds of wine. The makers will be given stock according to this schedule, and the wine-dealers will have to pay the schedule price or go without the wine. While this may seem an arbitrary action, the directors say that at first they will arrange a schedule of prices at the lowest possible rate, as they have a large stock of wines on hand that they desire to sell as soon as possible. The price will be as low as it can be made without loss to the makers.

It is to be hoped that the vineyardists of Southern California will reap their full share of the coming improvement in the wine market.

Fine Walnuts.

Frank Wiggins, the manager of the exhibit at the Chamber of Commerce, has on display some of the best-flavored walnuts that have ever been seen in Los Angeles. They are from trees only five years old, growing on the ranch of Mr. Wiggins at Whittier. The trees are planted between orange trees.

Whittier seems to be well adapted to the culture of the walnut. Mrs. Strong of that place has this year harvested 600 sacks of walnuts from 100 acres of land; raising corn between the rows of trees. These nuts are all of the improved soft-shell or paper-shell variety.

LIVE STOCK

A full-grown Angora is nearly double the size of the common goat and their flesh is as good as mutton while their hair is worth three times the price of wool. The fleece of a full-grown Angora will weigh from three to four pounds. They are like sheep, very gentle and peaceable, although if attacked by dogs instead of running they square about and face them, even sometimes giving them a broadside with their horns.

The Breeding of Sows.

(Southern Cultivator:) First—How long after a sow has dropped pigs before she can be bred again? If she does not come in heat as soon as wanted, is there any remedy to bring her in at the right time?

Second—If a sow is bred at 7 months old, will she grow as large as if she had reached maturity before breeding?—(Subscriber, Corinth, Miss.

Answer: First—As a rule, better pigs, larger litters and greater profit will be obtained from sows fully matured in all respects. Generally a sow ought not to be served until the pigs are 2 months old, or weaned. If the sow be served about the second week in November, the pigs will then come about the 1st of March. If served about the second week in May, the pigs will come by September. If the sow is kept in good condition, and not too fat, she will be likely to come in all right. In no case give cantharides. The following cordial may be given, night and morning, in thin gruel: Caraway powder, one ounce; powdered gentian, one-half ounce; essence of peppermint, twenty drops. Give half of this at a time in a pint of warm ale and a pint of thin gruel.

Second—Breeding at 7 months may not materially injure the growth of the young sow, but better results will be obtained by waiting until she is fully matured.

Poland China Hogs.

(Southern Cultivator:) The Poland-China hog is strictly an American-bred hog. They are a large breed, with good bone. Good feeders, fatten readily at any age, and can be made to dress three hundred pounds or more at 12 months old, and at 2 years old can be made to dress from five hundred to six hundred pounds. They have long bodies, short legs, broad, straight backs and square, heavy hams and shoulders. Color, black, with white face and white feet, and occasionally, white spots. Have drooping ears and fine style. They have been an established breed for over forty years.

POULTRY

Chicks in confinement are deprived entirely of the food which suits them best—insects of various kinds—and to make up for this deprivation use fresh bones, what are called green bones, ground or cut small enough for them to swallow. Fresh bones with some meat adhering to them, come nearer forming a perfect food for chicks than anything else we can supply. Give one generous meal a day.

Best Laying Results.

A writer in an English paper, writing on the above question, says:

"Whether hens will lay well when kept away from males has recently been a subject for experiment. A pen of eight pullets kept without a male produced eggs at about 30 per cent. less cost than an exactly similar pen with which a cockerel was kept. Another pen without a male gave during the first three months about the same proportionate excess of product over an exactly similar pen with which a cockerel was kept. Then the feather-eating habit developed and the egg product diminished, but during the eight months the total egg yield for each pen was very nearly alike. In each of the two pens without male birds, some pullets begun to lay from one to two months earlier than any in the corresponding pens where male birds were kept. The feather-eating usually appears after feeding for any length of time, an unvaried ration deficient in some constituents, more especially nitrogenous matters, but the habit has developed from idleness among fowls having a ration which gave satisfactory results with other similar pens of fowls fed at the same time. The vice should be stamped out by the removal of the first offender. The somewhat close confinement necessary in any trial where a careful account of the food is kept will make the conditions more or less unfavorable to the largest egg production. In these experiments no attempt was made to force the laying, and the broody fowls were allowed to set at will, there being many nest boxes in each pen. About the same number became broody in pens having male birds as in those without. The trials show that where the eggs are not used for hatching it is neither necessary nor economical to keep a male bird with laying hens for egg production."

THE DAIRY

A poor stable, while it is cold and damp and keeps the cows in a shiver, does not suffer from lack of ventilation, for, in fact, what makes it cold is its over-ventilation through innumerable cracks and crannies. Now it will be noticed that a lage part of the cattle that have been slaughtered for tuberculosis were of choice or blooded breeds.

Well-to-do dairy men, who possess such stock, do not usually house them in rickety stables, but keep them through the winter in tight, warm apartments. Ventilation is left to take care of itself, the object being to make the basement warm. Of course there are exceptions to this, but the facts warrant an assumption that tuberculosis among cows is fostered by the improved (?) system of stabling.

World's Dairy Tests.

(Massachusetts Plowman:) At the dairy tests of the World's Fair the New Hampshire cows took the highest award in butter producing. There was a large herd of Jerseys at the fair, made up of the best cows from the farms of many breeders, several States being represented. These cows have not given the results which private tests by the owners assert, but they have made fine records.

The Jerseys do not excel in the amount of milk produced, but the richness of the milk is great and the production of butter far beyond what is expected on an ordinary farm. The herd records show that on one day 870 pounds of milk, containing 126 pounds of cream, stood as the performance. From this was secured fifty pounds of salted butter. The cows average two pounds of butter per day when doing well and yield about fifteen quarts of milk daily.

The Holsteins have made a good record as butter producers. One result other than the simple record of milk and butter is the demonstration that the cows are doing just what they are bred to do—showing the great improvements that have been made by breeding for a special end. This whole herd has proved this. It is better for a man to have one cow which produces fourteen pounds of butter in a given time than two, each of which produces seven. It is cheaper, for the cost of one cow, her care and keeping, is that much tax beyond the expense of the other, that is, in the second case it costs twice as much to produce the same amount. In cattle, as in everything else, the best is the cheapest.

SICK HEADACHE.

DEAR BROTHER MEEK, Editor Central Methodist, Catlettsburg, Ky.: "I see in the last Central that you want a remedy for sick headache. If you will use a remedy that you advertise in your paper every week I am sure you will be greatly benefited thereby, and I believe cured. I have been a sufferer from sick headache, I can say almost from infancy, and have tried almost every remedy I could get and never found anything to do me any good until I used Simmons Liver Regulator. It has been nearly three years since I first used it, and I have not had sick headache since, and I never used but two and one-half packages of the Regulator. I sent my sister (who had from one to two attacks of sick headache every week) one-half of a package, and she has not had it since. I feel for anyone who suffers with that terrible disease, and I hope you will give it a trial."

Girls of America.

Octave Thanet, Harriet Prescott Spofford, Macdonald Oxley and Julia Magruder, in four of the best papers they have ever written.

It has often been said that woman rules the world; certainly in this country her sway is indisputable. Of that captivating combination of charming qualities, the American girl, we are all justly proud. Her whims and fancies make our literature and our life. The American girl is varied in character according to the section of the land in which she has been reared. Each section has its own peculiar type, and each type reveals distinct, individual characteristics. THE BOX SYNDICATE PRESS has chosen an effective method of presenting this fascinating subject. In four delightful articles the representative types of American girls are pictured by popular authors, natives of the sections of which they write.

In addition to their piquant interest the articles are written with great snap and spirit, revealing in each case the author's genuine enthusiasm in the subject.

Was Published Wednesday, November 7, 1894.

"The Western Girl."

Octave Thanet Pictures her virtues and her charm, her simple canons of right and wrong.

She will make whoever wins her a happy man.—A daring girl, perhaps, but an irreproachable wife and the most devoted of mothers. Too healthy for nerves. The modern neurotic enchantress of the "Yellow Aster" school does not suit the Western young man.—Her "good times" are plenty.—The social rules of the average town she lives in.—Incidents culled from Western life.—Two girls and chaperonage.—A story of a dinner and how a success was scored where failure seemed inevitable.

Sunday, November 11.

"The Southern Girl."

Julia Magruder, the dainty novelist of Dixie-land, tells of the sweet-voiced damsels of her home.

More beauty if less style, sweeter though not so learned—compared with the girls of other sections, the balance is not against her, at least.—A maiden genuinely of the household, the sister of her mother.—After she is grown she pays a loving deference to the woman that bore and nursed her.—Always a kindly face toward her own sex, and a helpful hand.—She puts men on their honor, and with her they stand the test.—A story of the North and South, a mad runaway, the Northern woman's hauteur and the Southern girl's comments.—Prejudiced, perhaps, but noble, always.—The type of the old regime passing away.

Sunday, November 18.

"The Canadian Girl."

The blue nose Lassie, La Belle Canadienne of the French Province, the Daughter of the Prairies, the Upper Canada Girl, the damsel of the Western Coast.—A bouquet of beauty, if a perfect type of each were only to be selected and the five should stand shoulder to shoulder.—She of Halifax to all intents and purposes a "British Miss.—The "Soldiers of Our Queen" up there, and the "garrison hacks."—Canadian girls not tied to their mothers' apron strings.—Rivalling the boys in the universities.—The young ladies of the French families.—Early married, with a short and brilliant social career.

Sunday, November 25.

"The New England Girl."

Harriet Prescott Spofford's denunciation of the critics who will not understand her Eastern sister.

Famous maids and spinsters sprung from that rock-bound coast.—A galaxy of women noted in literature, philanthropy, art and song.—These are the true types of the New England girl.—The typical maid not "a stiff piece of angular precision, narrow-minded, narrow-hearted and ruled by an inflexible conscience."—Her complex ancestry, her many grandmothers.—Pilgrim sternness, liberality, Scotch-Irish courage, French vivacity, the iron fibre of the Puritan all in her blood.—High of standard, cultivated.—She Paints, she models, she sings, she sews, she cooks.

Each article will contain about 2000 words, and has received careful editing.

PASADENA.

A CENTENARIAN CITIZEN WITH A HISTORY.

The Woman's Missionary Union Meeting; Election of Officers—Musical Events Past and to Come.

PASADENA, Nov. 9.—(Special Correspondence.) Dr. H. A. Reid, in searching for material to put in his forthcoming history of Pasadena, has discovered a centenarian living here in poverty. The ancient citizen is Senora Francesca Peres de Lugo, who was born in 1794 and at the age of 100 years is dwelling in a little house on the banks of the arroyo. She was, to quote Dr. Reid's words, "the wife of Don Felipe Lugo, who formerly owned the great Laguna Ranch, where the final battle was fought which won California to the United States, four battles having occurred previously in this county and one in San Diego county. She was in the last two battles, having galloped around the country on horseback collecting food and delivering it to her country's defenders on the battlefield. After the last battle the Mexican army camped on the south slope of Raymond Hill in South Pasadena, and from that camp was commenced the negotiations with Gen. Fremont which resulted in the capitulation of Cahuenga'—the only formal surrender of California that was ever made by any California officials to any United States officer. The Pasadena old woman was then occupying and taking care of Gov. Pio Pico's house in Los Angeles; and when Fremont took possession of it for his headquarters she delivered to him the keys of the house. She is sister-in-law to Hon. Stephen C. Foster, a native of Maine and graduate of Yale College, who was the first Yankee alcalde (judge) of Los Angeles—1847 to '49; he was also a leading member of our first State Constitutional Convention, and, afterward State Senator from Los Angeles."

WOMAN'S MISSIONARY UNION.

There was a good attendance at the Woman's Missionary Union meeting, held at the Methodist Church this morning, and much interest was manifested. After devotional exercises, which were led by Mrs. Henry Nichols, the meeting proceeded to elect officers for the ensuing year, choosing representatives from the various churches. The officers were: President, Mrs. Maxfield; vice-presidents, Mrs. Frank Burnham, First Congregational Church; Mrs. H. K. W. Bent, North Congregational Church; Miss McClelland, Baptist Church; Mrs. W. Pearl, Christian Church; Mrs. N. H. G. Fife, Presbyterian Church; Miss Anna Wilson, Friends' Church; Mrs. Giddings, North M. E. Church; secretary, Mrs. Dr. L. Allen; treasurer, Mrs. J. W. Camper.

An interesting talk on the consecration of woman missionaries was given by Mrs. E. A. Walker, and Mrs. Chapin followed with a brief lecture on consecration service. Denominational reports were received and read from various churches. Interesting papers were read by Mrs. Dr. Allen, Mrs Bosley, Mrs. Stalker, Mrs. Burnham, Miss Eva Keese, Mrs. H. K. W. Bent and Mrs. G. W. Pearl.

JUVENILE PARTY.

One of the prettiest society events of the season took place at the residence of Mrs. Gregg, No. 302 East Colorado street, this evening, it being a party given by Mrs. Gardner and Mrs. Coleman in honor of their daughters, Misses Ruth Gardner and Sarah Coleman, two of Pasadena's most popular young ladies. The elegant residence of Mrs. Gregg was beautifully decorated with white and yellow chrysanthemums, roses and smilax, and the parlor floors spread with canvas, on which the merry young people danced. Miss Horton of Los Angeles presided at the ice cream table, Miss Fife poured chocolate, and Mrs. Gregg proved herself to be a most charming hostess. The guests included: Edith Rand, Emily Stanton, Marion Towne, Marion Armstrong, Blossom Valette, Edith Rowland, Virginia Rowland, Helen Daggett, Lida Conger, Franc Bolt, Altha Meharry, Annie Whitmore, Anna McClintock, Bessie Roberts, Edna Hall, Chanor Hall, Edna Macy, Winifred Davidson, Pauline Toses, Tracy Cloud, Miss Orton, Miss Susie Orton, Miss Merriman, Nettie Hugus, Louise Hugus, Janey Horton, Ruth Daggett, Ethel Randall, Addie Clark, Sarah Coleman, Ruth Gardner, Guy McKinney, Don McGilvray, Arthur Dodworth, Ray Conger, John Daggett, Volney Craig, Jack Craig, Fred Roche, Frank Roche, Burton Towne, Lou Freeman, Walter Blodget, Page Randall, Elisha Eldred, Roy Macomber, King Macomber, Edwin Hart, Rob Rowan, E. O. Hull, Will Merwin, Oliver Picher, Lloyd Macy, Sayre Groesbeck, James Groesbeck, Charles Groesbeck, Robert Stimson, Charles Coleman, Frank Coleman.

THE EASTERN STAR.

The entertainment given by the ladies of the Order of the Eastern Star Thursday evening, for the benefit of the piano fund, was of more than usual interest, and the programme merits more extended notice than it has yet received. It included an overture and a selection by Dimond's Orchestra; vocal solo by Mrs. George McLaughlin; recitation by Miss Flora Banbury; piano solo, by Frank Turner; vocal solo, by Charles L. King; selection by the Guitar and Mandolin Club; recitation by Miss E. Noble; vocal duet, by Messrs. King and Strebel. The farce, "An Obstinate Family," was well played by Dr. W. D. Turner, Miss E. Bachelder, C. V. Johnson, Mrs. Will Ward, George McLaughlin and Miss Ella Bonner. As a conclusion, James Hughes read an essay by a bald-headed man.

THE FORTNIGHTLY CLUB.

The second of the popular lectures given under the auspices of the Fortnightly Club, at the Universalist Church, Thursday evening, was so well received that it will stimulate interest in these instructive free entertainments. The subject of "Primitive Society" was ably handled by Mrs. Lou V. Chapin, who, as a platform speaker, possesses marked ability. The lecture was preceded by a solo given by Miss Carter, and followed by one from Miss Westlake, both being accompanied by Miss Keese. President Comin announced that the next lecture will be on the evening of the 22d inst., by Mrs. Harriet Kelsey Fay, on the subject of "Why a Woman's Club."

PASADENA BREVITIES.

Justice of the Peace Merriam and a jury today tried a case against Jesus Acosta, charged by Joseph Chapleau of North Pasadena with maintaining a nuisance in permitting horses to run at large. A similar case was brought against another Mexican named Christoforo Barreras. The jury acquitted Jesus, and the case against Christoforo was dismissed. The prosecuting witness was his own attorney, and A. A. Montanyo of Los Angeles represented the defense.

(Star:) The greatest amount of rain during the year falls in December. Taking Mr. Nelmes's tables for the past twelve years, recently averaged by Mr. Channing and published in the Star, it is seen that the mean rainfall for that month was 4.38 inches. For November it was 1.98 inches, for January 3.51 inches, for February 4.23 inches, for March 4.05 inches, and for April 1.67 inches.

A literary society has been organized by the senior class of the Pasadena High School, with these officers to start with: Don McGilvray, president; Frank Wellington, vice-president; L. C. Brockway, secretary. The officers, with Miss Breed and Miss Shoptaugh, form the Executive Committee. The society will hold its first exercise on the 28th inst.

"I see that a South Pasadena editor finds fault with the mud in some of our streets," said a prominent Pasadena citizen today; "and I think he might have criticised some of the streets down his way. I found lots of mud in South Pasadena the other evening. It's my candid opinion that the streets are too generously watered now."

The concert to be given by the choir of the Church of the Angels next Tuesday evening, the 13th inst., will be in the assembly hall of the schoolhouse at Garvanza, and not in the church as was erroneously stated. A bus of Pasadena people will leave the corner of Colorado street and Fair Oaks at 7 o'clock Tuesday evening to drive to the concert.

SAN BERNARDINO COUNTY.

THE STORIES ARE DECLARED TO BE FALSE.

Brown was not Arrested for Arson and no Complaint was Sworn Out Against Him—Local Brevities.

SAN BERNARDINO, Nov. 9.—(Special Correspondence.) The stories circulated respecting Joseph Brown and his rumored connection with the recent burning of the Peacock block in Colton and other buildings in which Mr. Brown was interested as owner or mortgagor, have become so general and sweeping in their charges that the friends of Mr. Brown have thought best to take some action in the matter. In this connection the Times-Index, Mr. Brown's paper, will say tonight:

"For the past few days rumors affecting the character of Joseph Brown, a prominent citizen, who has been a resident of this city since his boyhood, have been in circulation. The Times-Index has made no reference to them for the reason that the rumors were evidently inspired by ignoble motives and in their very nature were incredible and wholly without foundation in fact. Any attempt to wreck a man's good name and destroy his influence in business circles and social life is always despicable, and in this case seems to have been especially malevolent and outrageous.

"Mr. Oster, the District Attorney, has made investigation of the rumors derogatory to Mr. Brown, and finds that there is no truth whatever in the floating stories. This afternoon Mr. Oster sent the following statement to this office:

"'Referring to the rumors connecting the name of Joseph Brown, President of the First National Bank of San Bernardino, with the burning of various buildings owned by him, or in which he has an interest, permit me to say that Mr. Brown has not been arrested nor has any complaint been filed charging him with arson or any other crime. Moreover, from the testimony adduced at the examination of Lewis and from such investigations as I have made, I find absolutely nothing to warrant any charge or suspicion against Mr. Brown. I make this statement as a matter of simple justice to a fellow-citizen and without the knowledge of Mr. Brown.'"

SANTA ANA, Nov. 9.—(Special Correspondence.) One of the most enjoyable social events of the season was the celebration of the fifth marriage anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Overshiner, of West Second street. The neat little house was profusely decorated with chrysanthemums, smilax and other vines and flowers, presenting a beautiful appearance. In the afternoon a number of elderly ladies were entertained, and in the evening the younger people were received. A programme of music and recitations was rendered during the evening. CHAMBER OF COMMERCE.

The regular meeting of the directors of the Chamber of Commerce was held Thursday evening, in the exhibit-room, on West Fourth street.

A committee of three was appointed on the securing of new members.

A resolution was unanimously passed, favoring the holding of the next citrus fair in Los Angeles.

The Committee on Rooms reported, having secured the room in the Gildmacher Block, on West Fourth street, now being used by the exhibit, at a rental of $20 per month.

President McFadden stated that only one or two farmers had reported to him the number of acres they would contract to plant to sugar beets. Secretary Marks of the Anaheim Co-operative Company was present, and stated that the Chino Company would begin making contracts December 5, and that it would be necessary for all who desire to raise beets the coming season to report at once the number of acres they would contract to plant for the Chino factory.

The secretary was allowed $25 for extra work, in putting up and keeping in order the fruit exhibit.

It was agreed "that the business men of the city be, and they are hereby, requested to talk to their farmer customers and friends about the importance of planting a few acres to sugar beets, and to report the result of their talk to John McFadden as soon as possible."

The board adjourned to meet on the first Thursday night in December.

A large number were present, and after refreshments had been served, one of the ladies present, Mrs. R. E. Hewitt, presented Mr. and Mrs. Waffle with many beautiful and useful tokens of the esteem and friendship of the guests. This portion of the programme was a complete surprise, as neither Mr. nor Mrs. Waffle had expected anything of the kind. But coming unexpectedly, as they did, they were the more appreciated.

SAN DIEGO.

Some Political Aftermath—U. S. Grant, Jr., as a Land Buyer.

SAN DIEGO, Nov. 9. — (Special Correspondence.) On October 25 the National City Record, edited by H. L. Harbaugh, member of the Republican County Central Committee, published the following: "For the State Senate there is Wadham (Dem.) who undoubtedly leads in the race, Withington (Rep.) having practically given up the fight, seeing the futility of his efforts and becoming resigned to the inevitable. A better man than Wadham could not have been found, and it may be safely stated that his work in the next Legislature will prove of incalculable benefit to San Diego county." This was republished in the San Diegan-Sun, the Democratic organ, October 26, under the heading of "Wadham Leads." The Times correspondent denied the truth of that statement. The election returns of November 6 for State Senator are as follows: Withington 2173, Wadham 1816, Dryden 2083, Clark 228. A Republican says: "Every loyal Republican should notice the difference between Republican County Committeeman Harbaugh's fiction of October 25, and the facts recorded November 6. In my opinion Editor Harbaugh should be asked to explain his peculiar conduct in opposing the regular Republican nominee, who is known as an upright, able man worthy the hearty respect of all citizens. If the Republican County Central Committee of this county proposes to tolerate such opposition as that openly expressed by Committeeman Harbaugh, the rank and file of the party in this county want to know it. Col. Gassen, member of the Republican State Central Committee, openly opposed Jennings, Republican nominee for Sheriff. The returns for Sheriff are: Jennings 1759, Hill 1686, Stewart 1602, Atherton 1209, Cotton 153. Gassen should be placed beside Harbaugh."

U. S. Grant, Jr., has bought 75x100 feet, corner of D and Sixth streets, for $13,000. This is the fifth purchase of property by the Grants in San Diego. Their investments represent about $70,000.

E. S. Babcock of Coronado is about starting on a long hunting trip into the Cocopah Mountains for deer and birds. He expects to journey back to civilization by way of Yuma.

SANTA BARBARA.

A Second Complaint Lodged Against Dr. Buell.

SANTA BARBARA, Nov. 9.—(Special Correspondence.) A few weeks ago Dr. Eugene Buell arrived here from San Francisco, and commenced practicing medicine in partnership with Dr. Weeks, the two calling their establishment the "Chicago Medical and Surgical Institute." In less than a week a warrant was issued against Dr. Buell, charging him with a misdemeanor, alleging that he was guilty of practicing medicine without a certificate. This complaint was signed by one F. Saline. Dr. Buell appeared by his counsel, and was given until Wednesday last to plead, when the case was dismissed on motion of the defendant's counsel. Today another complaint precisely the same as the first one was sworn to by J. E. Conklin, and a second warrant was served on the doctor. He appeared and pleaded not guilty, and the case was passed, Dr. Buell giving a bond for $100 for his appearance. Just why the first charge was dismissed and another exactly like it made is a mystery.

The officers of the steamer Queen, which arrived here yesterday afternoon, said that as they passed Cojo Bay they could see the masts of the wrecker San Pedro close beside those of the sunken Gosford. The men who were left on board the scow by Capt. Masguin, when he left for Gaviota are in the city. They left the scow in a small boat, and the next morning the lighthouse keeper showed them where to land. They came to Gaviota, and then here, and took passage on the Eureka this afternoon for San Francisco.

A mistake was discovered in the returns from Lompoc which made a difference in the Recorder fight by fifty votes in favor of Donohue. The corrected returns give Mr. Rasey a plurality of 67, whereas before he had a plurality of 17. Cuyama precinct has not yet been heard from, but there are only 35 votes in the precinct, so the result will not be changed.

FREEDOM FROM FRECKLES,

and from all such disfigurements and blemishes, follows the use of the Carlsbad Sprudel Salt. It clears and freshens the skin wonderfully—takes away that dull and mottled look that comes from stomach derangements. Even in chronic and stubborn cases of skin disorders, like eczema, it is the prescribed remedy.

The blood, the liver, the stomach, the kidneys—all are acted upon powerfully, but naturally, by the Carlsbad Sprudel Salt. You get the same benefit, the same cure, the same feeling of lightness and clearness all through your system as if you were at Carlsbad itself.

Beware of the many imitations sold as "improved" or "artificial" Carlsbad Salt. These are only mixtures of Seidlitz Powder and common Glauber Salt, sold by unscrupulous dealers for the larger profit they yield.

Insist upon the genuine imported natural Carlsbad Sprudel Salt, which is evaporated from the Sprudel Spring at Carlsbad, and bears the seal of the city and the signature of "EISNER & MENDELSON CO., Sole Agents, New York," on every bottle.

It has stood the test of 43 years, and is so harmless we taste it to be sure it is properly made. Accept no counterfeit of similar name. The distinguished Dr. L. A. Sayre said to a lady of the haut-ton (a patient): "As you ladies will use them, I recommend 'Gouraud's Cream' as the least harmful of all the Skin Preparations." WOMEN ALWAYS TIRED.

Mrs. Henry Ward Beecher Says She Has Known

But Half a Dozen Women Who Were Thoroughly Well.

The Routine of Domestic Tasks Overdrains Their Nervous Force.

"Among all my friends—and the number of my acquaintances has necessarily been rather large," says Mrs. Henry Ward Beecher, "I can recall but half a dozen thoroughly well women."

So many, in order to obtain the reputation of being good housewives, work from morning till night, cooking, sweeping and overhauling.

"What would the house look like," they ask, "if I were not constantly looking after it?"

It would certainly look a good deal more homelike if the wife and the mother kept her health and high spirits instead of growing old and careworn from the struggle with dust and the neglect of their tired, aching nerves, and pale, watery blood, that daily becomes more and more badly nourished.

It is not the healthy weariness of muscle and brain, so easily forgotten after a good night's sleep, but it is the weariness that remains till morning, and follows one through

When the nerves and the blood have thus become so badly nourished and the strength thus reduced, food—food appropriate for building up the nervous tissue—and rest, are the plain and simple means, in fact, the only means of restoring vigor and health. All the material so urgently needed by the million of exhausted nerve cells and by the thin, depleted blood are found in that remarkable invigorator, that food for the brain and nerves, Paine's celery compound. It fills the nervous and muscular tissues all over the body with the means of rapid growth, the blood gains new red corpuscles and grows ruddy and capable of thoroughly feeding the body. The strength returns, and headaches, dyspepsia, neuralgia and nervous debility disappear when the tone of the system has been thus raised and the body abundantly supplied with fresh, life-giving blood.

The very first week in which this perfect nerve food, Paine's celery compound, is conscientiously employed, it will declare its tonic effect by the feeling of returning strength, a marked increase in the appetite, freedom from pain and depression.

Paine's celery compound cures radically and permanently rheumatism, heart weakness, diseases of the liver and the kidneys, and encourages the excretory organs to expel whatever impure humors there may be in the blood. This is evident by the healthier, clearer condition of the skin that physicians say invariably follows when they prescribe Paine's celery compound, as they so commonly do where the body needs building up and when recovery is slow after acute disease.

Here is the experience of Mrs. E. L. Wing of Putney, Vt., told in her own words:

"I had been afflicted with rheumatism and neuralgia for many years. In a year and a half I have taken eight bottles of Paine's celery compound and have not been so free from these troubles in fifteen years as I am now. I advise all who are afflicted in any way with rheumatism or neuralgia to use Paine's celery compound.

"For the nerves and tired feelings, I think it is the best dose of ambition that I have ever found. Before I had taken one bottle I felt almost like another person. Other medicines have given me only temporary relief. But the compound has done me more permanent good than the doctors or any other medicine, and I can hardly feel grateful enough for the benefit that I have derived from its use."

George Libby, a painter, was injured yesterday afternoon by falling from a platform on which he was working, at the German-American Bank. He was doing "pointing" work over the doorway, when one of the ropes by which the plank was suspended suddenly broke, and he was thrown to the pavement. The rope was probably weakened by the acid with which he was working, as the fibers had the appearance of having been "eaten." Libby was injured at the hip, but the shock of the fall is a more serious matter. He was taken to his home.

Articles of incorporation were filed with the County Clerk yesterday by the Clear Springs Land and Water Company of Garvanza, formed for the purpose of acquiring and dealing in lands, water rights, and water for all purposes, etc., with a capital stock of $100,000, of which sum $2500 has been actually subscribed. Board of directors, Ralph Rogers, Sherman Smith, A. W. Berry, James Booth and J. H. Blanchard.

J. M. Wickersham was seriously injured yesterday evening near the Hollenbeck Hotel. Eye witnesses state that he was usurping two-thirds of the street, as well as the sidewalk, when a passing cable car caught him between it and a dirt wagon, squeezing him so that he is supposed to be internally injured. He is at the Receiving Hospital, under the care of Dr. Bryant.

THE POLICE COURT.

Dugan's Examination not Yet Concluded.

George Raymond, who has figured on the police records frequently before this, was brought in by Officer Fay yesterday on a charge of petty larceny. His examination disclosed that he had snatched a $1 bottle of whisky from a saloon shelf and made off with it; that he was chased several blocks, and when caught wore the regulation footpad rubber shoes. He is regarded as a dangerous criminal, and will be duly sentenced tomorrow.

Robert Martin was released yesterday by Justice Austin on $1000 bail to appear on November 10, at 3 p.m. for examination on the charge of burglary. In the complaint filed, Samuel Lister, the affiant, charges that Martin entered the house of Floyd Higgins at No. 125 South Johnson street with intent to commit larceny. The evidence, as far as learned, is purely circumstantial, and the friends of the accused claim he will be soon released.

W. J. Morton and N. Dillon were given 100 days each to serve for petty larceny. They were convicted of stealing a coat and buggy-robe from a man named Dooley.

Jim Bush, a chronic vagrant, was sentenced to forty days' imprisonment.

M. A. Wesner is affiant in the case of the People vs. H. Brown, and in his complaint charges that this H. Brown represented himself to Mrs. A. H. Cristy, of St. Paul's Hospital, as agent of the affiant. And under this name he succeeded in getting her order for one dozen cabinet photographs, done in two styles, for $1.50, on which he succeeded in collecting 25 cents. This action, Wesner claims, was unlawful and not authorized by him.

Sam Dugan's case came up again before Justice Seaman yesterday afternoon, and the hearing will be continued again today. Officer Lennon, who seized Dugan's right arm and took away his pistol, with which the former did the shooting, was in the witness-chair, and told what he knew of the affair. Dugan's pistol was offered in evidence. Robert E. Lee, whom Dugan attempted to kill, then gave his testimony, and his bullet-marked hat and the bullet that struck him in the arm were also admitted in evidence. Several other witnesses were heard and the case went over.

A METEOR EXPLODES.

People at New Brunswick, N. J. are Awakened from Sleep.

Associated Press Leased-wire Service.

DOVER (N. J.,) Nov. 9.—Jerry Butler of Kenville was leaving his barn about 11:20 o'clock last night when the skies were suddenly illuminated by a blinding flash. For an instant he was dazed. Then he realized that an unusually bright meteor had caused the flash. The seeming explosion was accompanied by a train of bright, greenish-hued light that seemed to linger in the heavens for a long time after the shooting-star had passed out of sight. The spectacle was followed fully a minute later by a distinct, yet muffled explosion.

People at New Brunswick were awakened about 12 o'clock by a heavy rumbling explosion, followed about half a minute later by a bright flash of light which illuminated the sky in a southwesterly direction. The general belief was that a meteor had exploded. This belief was strengthened by the discovery of a ragged hole in the ground in the woodland attached to the Boream property near the Raritan River between this city and Milton.
